

Europe Must Cut Armaments To Receive U. S. Financial Help

HOOVER LINKS WAR DEBTS AND SLASH IN ARMS

President Expected to Lay Views Before Laval on Latter's Visit

Washington, (AP)—Reductions in war debts payments will be considered by the United States only if European nations in turn effect drastic curtailments of armament.

President Hoover intends that the two subjects shall remain indissolubly linked in his approaching conferences with Premier Laval of France he expects to press his views that disarmament and a naval holiday cannot be logically separated from the question of war debts and the world financial condition.

There has been no indication, however, that the administration would enter into a complete revision of war debts.

Mr. Hoover recalled only Tuesday night at his conference with congressional leaders that in proposing the inter-governmental debt moratorium had opposed cancellation of war debts.

The chief executive's attitude has become increasingly clear here as the time nears when Premier Laval will depart for his epochal visit to this country.

Just yesterday, President Hoover again voiced his emphatic disagreement with outlays for armaments at the expense of productive enterprises.

In an address before the fourth Pan-American commercial conference, he pointed out that loans to nations for balancing budgets, or for military equipment or war purposes.

He recalled that in a 1927 address he had said "the financial transactions between nations must be based upon the primary foundation that money is transferred in for reproductive purposes."

"I repeat this today," Mr. Hoover said, "because had it been followed during these past five years our problems throughout the world would be far different, our difficulties infinitely less. A great number of blessings would follow to the entire world."

Conference in Europe
Almost as he spoke, the coming Anglo-French discussions were the subject of a conference in Paris between French and Lord Reading, British foreign secretary.

Laval said it was "devoted to a frank and complete exchange of views of the world situation and the measures best adapted to the amelioration of existing conditions."

From the head of one of France's greatest banks came the assertion that prolongation of the moratorium beyond next June would involve a loss for France of 2,500,000,000 francs ($400,000,000) annually and would mean the government would have to raise an equal sum in order to balance the budget.

In his insistence that European armament limitations shall be the price of further relief in war debts by America, President Hoover has the outspoken support of Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee.

Generally among congress members, however, judgment is being reserved on proposals to extend the moratorium.

Congress Chiefs Mum
This was emphasized by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, one of the congressional leaders who discussed the question with Mr. Hoover Tuesday night at his bi-partisan economic conference.

Bingham denied the congressional conferees had definitely opposed a moratorium extension. Asserting it is "obvious" that President Hoover will try to get the "best bargain possible" from Laval, the Connecticut Republican said "the conferees re-

NEW YORK CITY GETS ARMY-NAVY GRID GAME

Washington, (AP)—New York City has been definitely decided upon for a post-season Army-Navy football game for the unemployed.

Dec. 12 has been agreed upon as the date.

The Yankee Stadium probably will be the arena, although definite decision has not been made. The post-season service game last year was played at the Yankee Stadium which seats about 80,000.

FIVE TEACHERS' STUDY MEETINGS ARE SCHEDULED

Rural Mentors Will Discuss Problems at Demonstration Conference

Reading, language, music, arithmetic and history are subjects which will be covered at a series of group demonstration conference for rural school teachers of Outagamie county on Oct. 13, 14, 15, 20 and 21. Notices of the conferences were sent out this week by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Meating, assisted by Miss Nellie McDermott and A. L. Collar, supervising teachers, will be in charge. Rural teachers are told to be ready to discuss methods and goals that may be made uniform throughout the county. It is the aim of these conferences to set standard goals so that all teaching efforts will bring the same results.

The conferences will start at 9 o'clock in the morning, when teachers are required to be present. The morning will be given over to teaching demonstrations and to afternoon sessions to discussing the various subjects covered during the morning.

Following is the schedule of meetings:

Tuesday, Oct. 13, teachers of the towns of Center, Freedom, Grand Chute, Kaukauna and Buchanan at Center Valley rural school, town of Center.

Wednesday, Oct. 14, teachers of the towns of Cicero, Maine, Bovina and Black Creek at Sunny Valley school, town of Cicero.

Thursday, Oct. 15, teachers of the towns of Seymour, Oshkosh and Oneda at Plain View school, town of Seymour.

Friday, Oct. 20, teachers of the towns of Ellington, Dale and Greenville, at Elm Grove Center school, town of Ellington.

Wednesday, Oct. 21, teachers of the towns of Deer Creek, Maple Creek, Liberty and Hortonville, at Clover Blossom school, town of Maple Creek.

CARPENTERS TO MEET
District Council of Carpenters will meet at 8 o'clock Saturday night at Trades and Labor hall. Routine business will be transacted.

served their judgment until they see what is worked out and what is necessary in the way of an extension.

Many American bankers with foreign investments are known to favor a lengthier moratorium. Among a number of financial experts in congress an able government the view also is held that Germany will be in little better condition next July to meet reparations payments than she was the past summer when the moratorium was declared.

The fact is not being overlooked that she has the right under the young plan to suspend payments for two years. That, in seeking general disarmament, America is asking a definite benefit in exchange for what may be inevitable anyway.

Woll Outlines Beer Stand Of Federation Of Labor At Vancouver Convention

Vancouver, B. C. (AP)—Matthew Woll, third vice president of the American Federation of Labor, who is chairman of a committee seeking the legalization of 2.75 per cent beer today gave out a statement setting forth the committee's reasons. The statement follows:

"We feel in the Volstead act the determination that one-half of 1 per cent alcohol is intoxicating is carrying restrictions in manufacturing beverages to the point of absurdity. It does not even comply with the intention of the eighteenth amendment."

"Experts hold that even 4 per cent is non-intoxicating."

"Canadian draft beer is just what we want in the states."

"What higher content is intoxicating is something about which authorities differ. We ask something within the law—within the eighteenth amendment. No one can dispute that 2.75 per cent beer is permissible under the eighteenth amendment."

"Some people say: 'If beer is permitted, what assurance is there that the saloon and speakeasy will not flourish?' That is not the question. If it is admitted that 2.75 per cent is non-intoxicating—and experts admit this—then the Volstead act was not justified."

"Any law that takes away a right of the people must be interpreted literally, that is, it must be in direct opposition to the right taken away. The Volstead act is ambiguous. Any legislation that limits a right of the people must be interpreted in the interest of the party from whom the right was taken."

"Otherwise it becomes oppression and contrary to interpretations generally given on all other legal acts than the Volstead act. If congress acted legally, the people should have the percentage of alcohol they want, providing it is non-intoxicating."

"From a physical and social viewpoint, we feel that men, particularly those engaged in heavy physical work, need refreshment and mild stimulation.

"We all realize that if people are to have the opportunity of employment, we must create jobs. Brewing is an industry wanted by many, it would set many men to work."

"We don't think the eighteenth amendment prohibits congress from using its powers of interpretation, and we are working to crystallize public opinion in the congressional elections. We are not entering the presidential election."

"I don't say that illicit liquor will stop if we have beer, but I do say that when people have a good beverage, it changes their taste. We are becoming a whisky drinking nation, because beer is too bulky to transport. Where beer is, there is little hard liquor."

"The beer demanded by millions of people is enough for us, and if we had beer the eighteenth amendment would be better enforced, for the people would want their beer safeguarded, and would see that laws against illicit liquor were enforced."

LAY PLANS FOR TWO BAY SCOUT TROOPS

Kaukauna Catholic Churches to Sponsor Valley Council Groups

Preliminary plans for organization of two new Catholic boy scout troops at St. Mary and Holy Cross churches in Kaukauna were discussed at a meeting at Hotel Kaukauna Thursday evening. Among those who took part in the discussion were M. G. Clark, valley scout executive; the Rev. Joseph Schaefer, pastor of St. Mary church, J. P. Cavanaugh, Kaukauna superintendent of schools, and representatives of the Knights of Columbus.

Troop committees, to be composed of Knights of Columbus members, will be organized next week.

The Rotary club troop in Kaukauna will continue to function as it has heretofore, except that 12 scouts will be transferred to the new church troops. At the present time 41 youngsters are members of the Rotary troop.

After the new troops have been functioning for a time, a Kaukauna district scout committee will be organized. The committee will be composed of three committeemen from each of the three troops.

WELSH IMPERIAL SINGERS GIVEN HIGHEST RATING

Chorus of Male Voices in Program Here on Oct. 19

The Welsh Imperial Singers, who will appear in Appleton Monday night, Oct. 19, at Lawrence Memorial chapel under auspices of Appleton high school, are hailed as one of the finest small choruses of male voices in the world.

Festyn Davies, leader of the group, a brilliant and accomplished musician himself, also is a master conductor. Critics throughout the country have praised this band of singers as a chorus orchestra that shows brilliant tone resonance in forte passages and a shading and phrasing that is unsurpassed. As a chorus, the singers are noted for their voice variation and expressive spirit in song.

When the singers made their royal appearance in London, the Duke of York declared them to be a credit to Wales. Lloyd George, English statesman, proclaimed the group to be the greatest choral singers in the world, a band who could make old melodies new through musical interpretation. Reviewers praised them throughout the United States last year when the group made their first tour of the country after their appearance at the silver anniversary of Rotary International in Chicago.

The Welsh singers appeared in Appleton last year on the student lyceum program at Appleton high school but this is the first time they will make a public appearance in the city. The group will sing at the high school in the morning and present their public program the same night at the chapel.

Plant More Trees To Get Beauty, Plenty Of Shade

Trees are planted in the home grounds for two reasons—shade and beauty. The latter is the more important. A tree should always add beauty to its surroundings, and if possible it should be placed where its shade will be enjoyed.

Fall is a good time for tree planting, except possibly the thin-barked trees such as Birch, Cherry, Lombardy Poplars and Oaks. Of course, care must be taken in preparing the soil and setting the trees in the ground. But equally vital is that it be set in the right place to do its full duty.

If you know just what a tree is to do, it is easy to select the variety you need, and the location for it. Perhaps it is intended to frame the view of the house. Then it should grow to the proper height, when mature, so that it is in scale with

PLAN PRESENTATION OF FAMOUS STORY

“Treasure Island” Will Be Presented by Little Theatre Group

The characters of Robert Louis Stevenson's immortal “Treasure Island,” which will always live in the hearts of children, will take on life for the children of Appleton when the Little Theatre of the Fox river valley presents the play. The early part of November. The date of the play will be announced later.

According to Mrs. Theodore Cloak, director, the various committees have been appointed and are already at work. Publicity in schools of the city is to begin immediately, and the necessary stage effects are being secured. Tryouts for the cast are to be held this week, after which rehearsals will begin at once.

According to a new rule of the Theatre group, the play will be presented Friday evening and Saturday afternoon in Lawrence Memorial chapel. The admission charge will be only a small fee so that expenses can be met.

The purpose of the Friday night performance is to enable parents to accompany their children. The Little Theatre group will present five plays during the season, two for adults and three children's plays. The play reading committee has finished reading a group of plays which will be decided upon by the next meeting of the players.

13,270 BOOKS IN USE DURING MONTH

Fiction Volumes Lead in Circulation at Appleton Library

A total of 13,270 books was circulated from the Appleton public library during August, according to the monthly report of Miss Florence Day, librarian. Of this number 10,745 were fiction volumes, 2,267 non-fiction, 175 unbound periodicals, and 85 foreign books.

The number of patrons of the library increased from 11,057 to 11,139 during the month. Of this number 773 live outside the city limits. New books added during the month numbered 280, bringing the total number of volumes on the shelves up to 35,102. Two books were received as gifts.

The completion of the reference room repairs and the transfer of the catalog department to the basement were reported at the monthly meeting of the library board Tuesday afternoon.

The children's department reported that book deposits have been made in 17 schools, that a story hour is held every Saturday, and that 100 new books have been added to the children's room.

WINTER STACKS THE CARDS

When you gamble with a makeshift anti-freeze

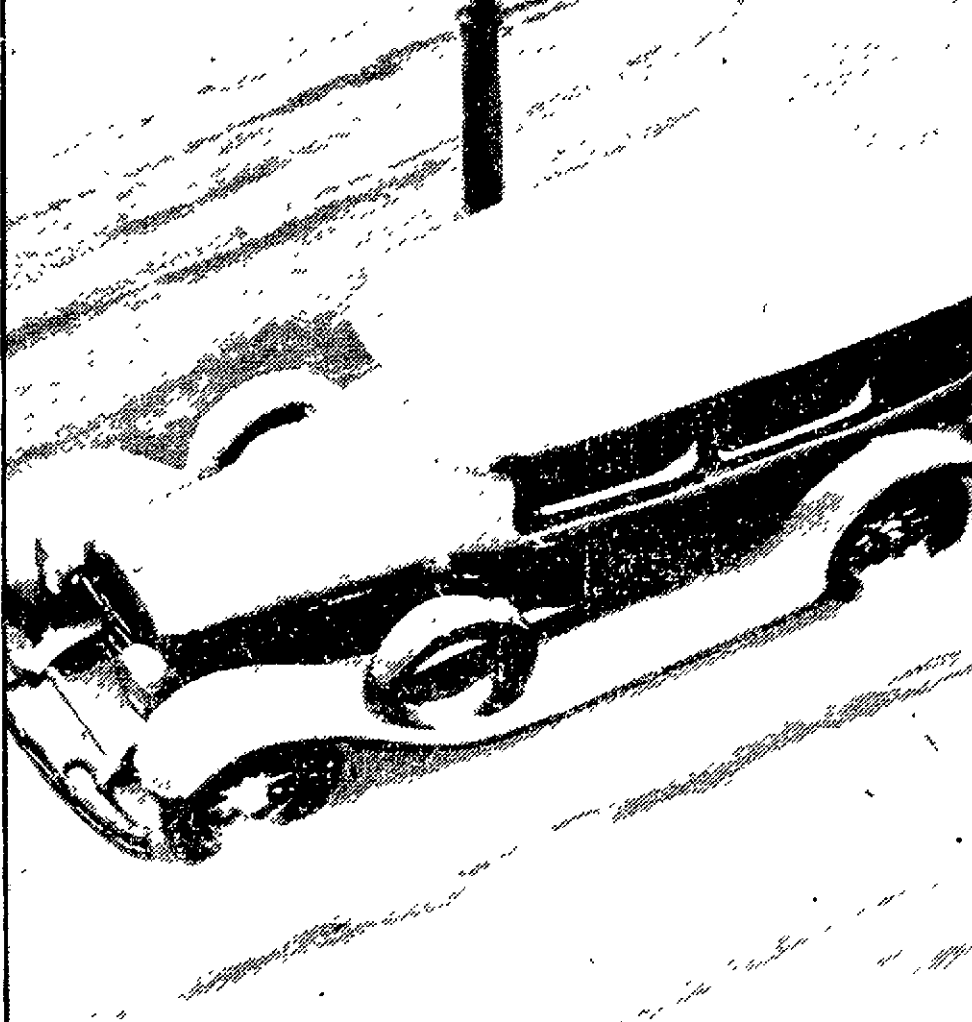

IT TAKES cold cash to fix a frozen automobile... and that's what you may have to use if you risk an anti-freeze that boils away with every sharp rise in temperature.

The sure and inexpensive way to safeguard your car through every change of winter-weather is with Eveready Prestone. This is no makeshift mixture, originally intended for some other purpose; it is the first product scientifically developed to keep automobile-engines from freezing—now improved and made better than ever.

Eveready Prestone will not overheat your engine, and it will not boil off. It flows freely in the coldest weather. It has less tendency to leak than water. It will not damage the expensive finish of your automobile. It retards rust and keeps the cooling-system free-flowing.

Last year over a million and a half motorists used it for complete, all-winter protection. It is accepted by leading car manufacturers and automotive engineers.

The first cost of Eveready Prestone is the last. There is no annoyance of having to test your mixture every few days.

No expense of having to replenish it. No large repair bill for a frozen engine. Don't go by cost per gallon; figure out the cost per season.

Beat cold weather to the punch. Today, have your cooling-system cleaned, your connections tightened. Then put in the proper amount of Eveready Prestone. That's all! You've taken the gamble out of winter driving!

9 POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

1. Gives complete protection.
2. Does not boil off.
3. Positively will not damage cooling-system.
4. Will not heat-up a motor.
5. Circulates freely at the lowest operating temperatures.
6. Will not affect paint, varnish or lacquer finishes.
7. Non-inflammable and odorless.
8. Prevents formation of rust in the cooling-system.
9. Economical—one filling lasts all winter.

Coroner's Jury Decides Neenah Man Was Struck By Unknown Car

6 WITNESSES TESTIFY AT INQUEST HERE

Only Few Minutes Required to Reach Verdict in Accident Case

A coroner's jury yesterday afternoon found that Henry Kampe, 42, Neenah, came to his death late Sunday night on Highway 41 as the result of being struck by an automobile, whose driver is unknown. Kampe's body was found on the side of the road about 12.45 Monday morning, by Morris Lehrer, Kaukauna, who was driving home. Lehrer notified police and the body was identified by Sheriff John Lappen as that of Kampe. The sheriff was a witness at the inquest yesterday.

Kampe's shoes were found several feet from the body, with the laces untied. The sheriff said he thought the shoes came off when Kampe was struck by the car. The sheriff also told of checking with garages throughout cities in this vicinity in an effort to locate the car which had struck Kampe.

Other witnesses at the inquest were Owen Klotz, Kaukauna; Mrs. Mike Wagner, Appleton; Morris Lehrer; George Vanderveld, town of Grand Chute; Peter Oudenhoven, county motorcycle officer; and Viggo Sorenson of the Neenah police department.

Calls Sheriff
Mrs. Wagner, who lives on Highway 41, told of seeing Kampe walking along the middle of the highway several weeks earlier.

Klotz told of driving along Highway 41, just east of Appleton, about 11 o'clock Sunday night and of seeing a man who resembled Kampe walking along the middle of the highway at that time. He said Kampe appeared to be staggering uncertainly, and that cars had to drive on the wrong side of the road to pass him.

Lehrer and Officer Van Oudenhoven told of seeing Kampe's body in the ditch. The officer arrived shortly after Lehrer found the body. Vanderveld told of calling the sheriff's department from his household.

Officer Sorenson testified that Kampe was picked up at Neenah recently when he was found lying in the street.

The coroner's inquest opened Monday afternoon but after the jury viewed the body and the scene of the accident an adjournment was taken until yesterday. Members of the coroner's jury, which was out only a few minutes, were L. C. Jens, E. L. Williams, Joseph Schweigen, E. A. W. Hammond, Louis Keller and Eugene Dachelet.

PRINCIPALS FROM JUNIOR SCHOOLS OPEN CONFERENCE

Fox River Valley Group in One-day Session Here at Roosevelt School

The Fox River Valley group of the Wisconsin Junior High School Principals' association opened its one day conference at 10 o'clock this morning at Roosevelt Junior high school, with 15 junior high schools in the valley represented. Members of the group included Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Unzicker, Roosevelt Junior high school, Fond du Lac; S. M. Current, Washington Junior high school, Green Bay; Miss Margaret McMahon, McCartney Junior high school, Green Bay; M. R. Wabertson, Wilson Junior high school, Manitowish; E. B. Young, Madison Junior high school, Manitowish; S. S. McNelly, Marinette Junior high school; O. I. Love, South Side Junior high school, Sheboygan; A. O. Iverson, assistant principal, senior high school at Sheboygan; Appleton Junior high schools were represented by A. G. Oosterhouse, Roosevelt; Dr. M. H. Small, Wilson; F. B. Younger, McKinley.

Three speakers discussed supervision in junior high schools during the morning session with an informal discussion in afternoon. S. P. Unzicker discussed effective methods of classroom supervision. Miss McMahon talked on supervision through faculty meetings and Dr. Small spoke on the subject from a "Side Line" viewpoint.

The group of principals attended the student assembly program at the school at 10 at which George Nixon presented a musical program. A. G. Oosterhouse, supervisor of the conference, will present a general resume of the meeting in Milwaukee Wednesday Nov. 4, at the state meeting of junior high school principals. This state meeting precedes the state teachers' convention by one day. Similar meetings held in other districts will be reported at the state meeting. Each junior high school group has a different phase of high school problems to discuss.

CHIEF PRIM IS BACK FROM STATE MEETING

Police Chief George T. Prim returned to his duties this morning after attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Police Chiefs' association at Milwaukee Wednesday and Thursday. The chief was reelected treasurer of the association. R. H. McCarty, Kaukauna police chief, was reelected secretary.

A number of grand officers of United Commercial Travelers will be in Appleton Saturday to attend the Fox River Valley Booster Meeting at which the local council and auxiliary will be host and hostess. Among them will be Fred L. Wright, Milwaukee, past supreme officer; C. F. Hertlein, Superior, grand counselor; L. G. Everson, Milwaukee, grand secretary; and W. J. Sullivan, Columbus, Ohio, supreme secretary.

The order of United Commercial Travelers is an accident insurance company for the mutual benefit of commercial travelers. Approximately 150,000 salesmen of the United States and Canadian have rallied together to conduct their own insurance department.

The program for Saturday includes a special meeting of the council at 2 o'clock to vote on applications and reinstatements, and a meeting at 8:30 when a large class of candidates will be initiated. The Manitowish degree team will exemplify the ritualistic work at Odd Fellow hall.

The Appleton auxiliary will entertain home and visiting ladies at a card party at 2:30 in the afternoon at Conway hotel. Refreshments will be served and prizes will be awarded.

There will be a banquet at 6:30 for both men and women at Conway hotel. Entertainers for the evening include George C. Nixon, Miss Gertrude Farrell, Miss Helen Mueller, Carl S. McKeen, J. M. Van Roon, Robert M. Connelly, and J. F. Bannister.

Councils which will take part in this booster meeting are from Green Bay, Marinette, Manitowish, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, and Appleton.

WARMER WEATHER ON MENU FOR SATURDAY

Skies will be cloudy tonight and Saturday and the mercury is due for a slight rise, the weatherman says. Rising temperatures and cloudy skies have been forecast throughout the middle west for the next 24 hours.

Although frost was predicted for this vicinity Friday night, the mercury dropped to 44 degrees above zero at 6 o'clock this morning. At noon it registered 58 degrees above zero.

Winds are shifting to the south and southwest, a sure indication that warmer weather is on the way.

HIGHWAY 55 HEARING SCHEDULED NEXT WEEK

The county highway committee will go to Freedom next Wednesday morning to attend a hearing there on the proposed rerouting of Highway 55 from Freedom to Seymour. The proposed change already has been approved by the committee and by the county board. The hearing next week will give all those interested in the project an opportunity to voice their opinion of the plan. Highway 55 now runs west out of Freedom and then north through the towns of Freedom and Osborn into Seymour, coming into Seymour from the south. Under the new plan the highway would go through Freedom and directly north through the towns of Freedom, Osborn and Oneda to a point directly east of Seymour. Then it would turn and go west into Seymour.

BOY SCOUTS GUESTS AT FOOTBALL GAME

Boy scouts of the valley council have been invited to attend the Viking-Beloit football game at Whitfield field Saturday afternoon as guests of Lawrence college, according to M. G. Clark, executive. Scouts have been requested to appear in uniform, and to occupy seats on the north end of the field, to the left of the student bleachers.

CLOSE TRADE BOARD

Chicago—(P)—The Chicago Board of trade will be closed Monday, Columbus day, and all American grain exchanges, as well as Winnipeg and Buenos Aires, will also suspend for the holiday.

ANTI-JAPANESE FEELING GROWS AMONG CHINESE

League of Nations Council Summoned to Act in Manchurian Crisis

cruisers, five destroyers and eleven river gunboats, stationed at Shanghai, Chinkiang, Nanking, Wuhu, Kiang, Tayeh, Hankow Changsha, Ichang, and Chungking. Shigemitsu said violent demonstrations against Japanese at Chengtu, capital of Szechwan province, and Yunnanfu, capital of Yunnan, had compelled him to order his consuls there to withdraw to Chungking, Szechwan and Hanow, French Indo-China. Japanese residents in those places previously had evacuated.

Consulate Threatened
At Changtu the demonstration was especially bitter. Crowds surrounded the Japanese consulate, the minister said, shouting threats and insults and covering the walls with posters reviling Japan.

The note which Shigemitsu carried to Nanking said the anti-Japanese agitation "seems to be assuming alarming proportions" and declares the "Chinese government will be held responsible for whatever may be the consequences of its failure to suppress the anti-Japanese movement and afford adequate protection of the lives and property of Japanese subjects in China."

It further asserted that the anti-Japanese agitation "is conducted as an instrument of national policy under the direction of the Nationalist party, which, in view of the peculiar political organization of China, is inseparable from the government."

"The movement must therefore be distinguished from one originating spontaneously among the people," Shigemitsu intends to interview the highest Chinese government officials, including Chiang Kai-shek, president, and impress upon them the gravity with which Japan views the Yangtze valley situation and Tokyo's determination to take any measures necessary to protect its nationals.

Officials here predicted the Chinese reply to the note would be that the boycott against Japan was a spontaneous and popular movement beyond the government's control but that nevertheless the government was doing its utmost to assure the safety of Japanese lives and property in China. The news of the Chingchow bombing was received with bitter indignation both in Shanghai and Nanking. The Appleton Woman's club learned the news from Chingchow boldly as "a fresh Japanese atrocity."

EXAMINE 31 BABIES AT CLINIC SESSION

With bridge tables converted into measuring stations and places to put baby clothes, with a scales in one corner of the main clubroom and clubwomen efficiently talking data on infants in the one day baby clinic at the Appleton Woman's club looked somewhat like a crowded day nursery at 9:30 this morning.

Thirty-one babies were examined in this last clinic of a series begun last year by the Appleton Woman's club. The clinic, which lasted from 9 until 12 o'clock this morning, was supervised by the Outagamie Medical society. Doctors D. M. Gallaher and Carl Nordahl were in charge.

Babies were measured and charted and registered on the first floor and then whisked upstairs to be examined by the doctors. Assisting nurses were Mrs. John Haug, Mrs. C. O. Gochauer, Miss Ellen Buckland and Miss Lucy Scholtz. Mrs. Harry Griffin and Mrs. William Nemachek assisted with the registration.

LILACS IN BLOOM AT DAEMAN HOME

Mild weather and continuous rains during the past few weeks have produced a second crop of lilacs on a bush in the garden of Mrs. William Daeman, 1231 W. Wisconsin-ave. The bush of lavender flowers has been in bloom for almost a week and the blossoms are as healthy as those which appear in the spring time, Mrs. Daeman says.

POSTPONE MEETING OF WOMEN'S COMMITTEE

The meeting of the ninth district nominating committee of federated woman's clubs scheduled for tomorrow at Sturgeon Bay has been postponed until a later date. Mrs. E. V. Werner, president of the Appleton Woman's club, is a member of the committee. This group will select officers for the ninth district to be presented at the district convention next year.

CONGRESS SURE TO STUDY BANK SYSTEM IN U. S.

Extent of Backing for Presidential Recommendations in Doubt

Washington—(P)—Microscopic study by congress of the whole system of national banking laws on the basis of the last two year's business events is certain.

The emergency economic program advanced at this week's bipartisan White House conference will be the principal laboratory lesson from which congress will build to guard against future credit strains.

While the congressional conferees agreed to the general program advanced by President Hoover, it was apparent today that there would be some differences of opinion over details.

The main controversy is expected to center on the extent to which congress will go with the presidential recommendation for broadening the base of paper eligible for rediscount by Federal Reserve banks.

Meanwhile, in New York formation of the $500,000,000 national credit corporation undertaken by private financiers at the suggestion of President Hoover is near completion.

With stocks, cotton and grain prices pushed upward already under the stimulus of the proposed organization, Mr. Hoover was notified that it would be formally incorporated by tomorrow.

Soon thereafter the enormous strength of its pooled resources will be injected into a nationwide offensive to freeze frozen assets for commercial trading.

Temporary Measure

The corporation will be authorized to issue up to $1,000,000,000 in debentures to subscribing banks throughout the country which would contribute 2 per cent of their net demand and time deposits. At this time it is considered a temporary organization to meet the situation pending congressional action.

A preliminary hint of opposition to some phases of the administration's legislative program has come already from Senator Glass of Va. The former Democratic secretary of the treasury gave notice that he would oppose proposals to include railroad, real estate and industrial securities in paper eligible for federal reserve rediscount.

As chairman of the senate banking investigating committee, Glass has been studying this very problem and is prepared to cooperate for some liberalization of the Federal Reserve system. He will have wide influence on the action of congress. He warned the White House conference to guard against too much expectation in the matter of broadening the base for rediscount.

Over in the house, Chairman McFadden of the banking committee, also is carefully reserving judgment on just how far he would be prepared to go in extending the base of eligible paper.

Senator Glass contends that banks are not taking advantage of facilities now offered by the Federal Reserve system. In September, he said member banks held $3,193,000,000 of eligible paper while they were borrowing only $147,000,000.

Cites Aldrich Efforts

"Former Senator Aldrich in the most powerful days of his public career," the Virginia senator said, "sought in vain to induce railroad and industrial securities as eligible paper for rediscount but he never could induce congress to listen to

"Kidnaping" Merely Due To Quarrel Over Car Ride

Port Washington—(P)—The "kidnaping" that sent Ozaukee-co deputies speeding over the highways yesterday in search for Mrs. Herman Clausung turned out to be just Eddie Brasger, hired man on the Clausung farm, going out for an automobile ride.

Eddie had purchased an automobile on installments. He couldn't meet the payments so Clausung and his wife took over the notes. Yesterday, Eddie decided he was going car riding. So did Mrs. Clausung.

They intended, however, riding separately. Eddie was in the machine and Mrs. Clausung entered and reached for the keys. Eddie decided to use force if necessary to get the ride. He struggled with Mrs. Clausung for the keys and got them, but in the mixup Mrs. Clausung suffered a cut on the hand.

He sped away in the automobile, Mrs. Clausung screaming in the car. The neighbors heard the screams and saw the blood and yelled "kidnapers."

Motorcycle officers finally caught the car and Eddie was fined $25 and costs for assault plus the cost of the mileage for the motorcycles which caught him.

Any such dangerous proposition, I am utterly opposed to the inclusion of nonmarketable papers. The first thing you know you will have the Federal Reserve system frozen up."

It is the intention of the administration to leave this question largely up to congress.

However, there is apparent agreement between the administration and Glass, spokesmen for the Democrats, on a plan to turn into a revolving fund the profits from the Federal Reserve system to be used in meeting future bank crisis.

In other words this revolving fund would function in similar manner to the $500,000,000 corporation being formed by bankers to aid depositors of closed banks and to save any threatened institutions.

There is some doubt as to just how far the administration will go in recommending that congress broaden the field of eligible paper. A report that it would favor having the Federal Reserve system ultimately take over the paper to be liquidated by the private corporation brought a sharp protest from Glass.

Protests "Unloading"

"I have not the remotest idea," said the senator, "that congress would be guilty of the supreme folly of permitting the Federal Reserve system to take over the unliquid or frozen assets proposed to be acquired by this $500,000,000 corporation. What is the use of organizing this so-called national institution if it is to be permitted immediately to unload its burdens on the Federal Reserve system?"

"So far as revising the Federal Reserve act so as to provide against

FRUIT, VEGETABLE PRICES STEADY ON APPLETON STANDS

Large Variety of Produce
Still Available, Dealers
Say

Fruit and vegetable prices have remained fairly steady during the past two weeks, Appleton dealers say. Quotations on fresh produce are lower now than they have been in years, dealers say. Although the season already is over, there still is a large variety of fresh products available on Appleton stands.

The vegetable market is quoted as follows: Green beans, 10 cents a pound; new carrots, 5 cents a bunch; new beets, 5 cents a bunch; celery, 15 to 20 cents a bunch; head lettuce, 10 to 15 cents; radishes, 5 cents a bunch; spinach, 15 cents a pound; and cucumbers, 5 and 10 cents each.

New cabbage is selling at prices as low as 3 to 4 cents a pound; tomatoes 5 to 8 cents a pound; new potatoes, 20 to 25 cents a peck; red peppers, 5 and 8 cents each; green peppers, 5 and 8 cents each; cauliflower, 25 to 35 cents; silver skin onions, 8 cents a pound; chives 25 to 35 cents a pot; honeydew melons, 25 to 35 cents each.

Parsley is still selling at 10 cents a stalk; kohlrabi, 10 cents a pound; celery cabbage, 10 cents a bunch; rutabagas, 5 cents a pound; horseradish, 35 cents a pound; mushrooms, 75 cents a pound; turnips, 10 cents a bunch; alligator pears, 35 cents each; egg plant, 5 and 10 cents each.

Pumpkins are retailing at 10 cents each; squash, 5 to 8 cents each; summer squash, 5 and 10 cents each; sweet potatoes, six pounds for 25 cents; Brussel sprouts, 25 cents a quart; pickles, 3 and 4 cents a pound; and broccoli, 10 cents a bunch.

The fruit market is quoted as follows: Limes, 50 cents a dozen; coconuts, 15 cents each; lemons, 39 to 55 cents a dozen; California oranges, 39 to 49 cents a dozen; pears, 29 to 39 cents a dozen; plums, 10 cents a dozen; apples, four pounds for 25 cents; red grapes, two pounds for 25 cents; blue grapes, 17 and 19 cents a basket and bananas, five pounds for 25 cents to three pounds for 25 cents.

State Will "Certify" New Drivers Of Automobiles

In the future all new drivers who seek a license from the secretary of state, will be "certified," according to an announcement from Theodore Dammann, secretary of state.

For a number of years the state has had a driver's license law but all this amounted to was applying for a license and being granted a certificate. Under the new law, all those licensed under this act will be continued on the state's list of licensed drivers.

But the state's new crop of drivers will be forced to prove their ability to drive before being granted a license.

Secretary of State Theodore Dammann declared today that provisions are being made now to put the new law into effect. A person wanting to learn to drive an automobile must first apply to the secretary of state for a "learner's" permit. Under this permit, the new driver must be accompanied constantly by someone able to drive who must sit in the front seat with the driver.

After the driving novice has made 500 miles or more, he is entitled to apply for a regular driver's license. But there will be an examination before the final permit is granted.

Mr. Dammann pointed out that the secretary of state's office has not sufficient inspectors to handle such work and that a plan will probably be worked out whereby a local officer can test the applicant for a driver's license.

The new law not only makes it harder to get a license to drive but it also makes it much easier to lose the right to drive. Anyone guilty of reckless or drunken driving has his license revoked until he can show that he is insured or otherwise covered against accident liability. Those who cannot get liability insurance and are unable to show assets to protect others in case of an accident will be forced to stop driving automobiles.

A number of license plates have already been turned in through various courts, under the new act.

SAFETY IN DRIVING

"Slow and safe" has usually been the slogan of those who lecture others upon the art of automobile driving. But an inquiry conducted by Ohio State University and sponsored by the National Research Council finds that slow drivers are involved in more accidents than the others. It has always been assumed too, that motor accidents are especially liable to occur in bad weather. The investigators find that most of the accidents occur in clear, dry weather.

How are these alleged facts to be explained? Perhaps the slow drivers are, for the most part, awkward and timid, more likely than others to get into trouble, no matter what their rate of speed, and since driving has speeded up so, they run more risk than ever of collision because they interfere with the stream of traffic. Too, the slow driver is a menace because he holds up the cars behind him. Naturally being in a greater hurry than the slow driver they attempt to pass him and often collide with cars coming from the opposite direction. The minimum speed limit on the famous Dunes Highway between Chicago and Michigan City, Indiana was recently set at forty miles an hour as an experiment to determine if speeding up traffic would cut down the accident toll on this highway. The road, particularly on Saturdays and Sundays and holidays, is congested and oftentimes a slow driver would hold up a string of automobiles two or three miles long, every car having to accommodate itself to the speed of the slowest machine in the procession. When the autos were speeded up there was a great decrease in the number of accidents and a larger volume of traffic was handled in less time. This indicates clearly that the slow driver is more of a traffic nuisance than the fast driver, for a good driver, hitting a forty-five mile clip, can be far less of a menace to public safety than a poor one whose car does not go over twenty-five miles an hour all the way.

As for the weather probably most drivers take special precautions when roads are wet and visibility poor, and take extra chances under the stimulus of fine weather.

LURE OF ADVENTURE

The gold prospector is hitting the trail again. In such famous oldtime fields as those of South Dakota, California, Montana and the Yukon men are getting busy once more, panning the sand of lonely streams and repeating, in miniature, the scenes of the great gold rush days.

This, it seems, is not due to any new discoveries, but simply to the depression. Gold will buy more than it would a few years ago. The prospector who gets an ounce of fine dust can buy more supplies, equipment and luxuries with it than he could formerly.

None of these prospectors is getting rich. But a great many of them are making a comfortable living, and abandoned gold fields are looking lively. Indeed, in certain parts of Canada so many unemployed men from the cities are trying to turn prospector that the mounted police are beginning to shoo them back, fearing that winter will bring too many hardships to ill-equipped and inexperienced gold-hunters.

Now there isn't any especial reason why we stay-at-homes should be glad to hear about this revival of prospecting. We have never hunted for gold, and we never shall—nor would we know how to do it if we tried. But simply to know that men are wandering along empty mountain canyons, far away, looking for the magic metal, is somehow good for us.

We have to take our adventures by proxy, these days. No new gold strike, not even the most fabulous, could tear us away from the daily routine. Our horizons will always be just about what they are now. But we have dreams; we have imagination; and the prospectors who tramp the western and northern wildernesses are taking us with them, without knowing it. As long as they can go—as long as there is still gold to be found, and lonely country to provide adventure—we do not feel our imprisonment.

That is why stories about gold-seekers, explorers and the like will always have a sure appeal. Our own hopes died when we went into our teens and realized sadly that we would never become pirates or soldiers or fortune of bearded prospectors; but so long as other men can become those things we don't mind quite so much.

We don't get far from home, and we don't have high adventures. But somewhere, far away, the golden door is still open, if only a little. We can tell ourselves that we could if we would. That is enough.

DWIGHT W. MORROW

The death of Senator Dwight W. Morrow is a distinct loss to the American people. Coming as it did at the climax of a period of intense activity and usefulness, his passing removes one whom it will be exceedingly hard to replace. Since he entered public life Dwight W. Morrow has made a remarkable record both from a standpoint of service to his country and in winning the respect and confidence of the American people.

Senator Morrow first came into the limelight during the World war when he was of great assistance to President Wilson in ironing out a number of financial and diplomatic tangles with foreign governments. For this outstanding service he was awarded the Distinguished Service medal, the decoration being presented by General Pershing in person. As a member of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., he proved a wizard at finance and took a leading part in the refinancing or reorganization of some of this country's largest industries.

In 1927, when President Coolidge was looking for an American of balance, judgment, character, tolerance and personality to represent this country in Mexico, he selected Mr. Morrow, the man he voted for at Amherst college who would "most likely succeed in life." That President Coolidge's confidence was not misplaced is proven by the brilliant record made by the New Jersey banker and lawyer in the Southern republic. A wise counsellor, a humanitarian and a firm believer in the spirit of cooperation he soon established amicable relations between the two sister republics and brought about a feeling of harmony and goodwill that had not existed for a decade or more. Mr. Morrow is also given credit for taking a prominent part in the settlement of Mexico's religious strife and it was largely due to his efforts that the Catholic churches were re-opened. He represented the United States at the recent naval conference at London and his work was of invaluable assistance to the government.

Mr. Morrow's passing is a great loss to the Republican party. One of its real leaders and a competent adviser, he held a high place in the councils of this organization where his influence will be keenly missed. The senator had been spoken of repeatedly as of presidential timber, and there is no doubt but had he lived he would have been seriously considered for that office in 1936.

Last year he advocated the repeal of the prohibition amendment, believing that it had been given a fair trial and that the plan was impractical and incapable of enforcement. Although it brought down upon him the condemnation of some of the dry leaders, nevertheless his candor and sincerity won him many friends and perhaps did as much as anything in the last decade to weaken the dry cause. America can ill afford to lose men of Mr. Morrow's ability at this time, particularly when we need real leaders and men who can accomplish things. Mr. Morrow was both of these, and his death is a tragic decree at this time. Perhaps, had he obeyed his doctor's orders and slowed down his activities, he might have lived for years, but he could not sit back when there was important work to be done.

Cape Town to Cairo Road
Work on the system of highways from Cape Town to Cairo is progressing so rapidly that in the near future motor travel the length of Africa will be possible in all seasons.

An all-aluminum sleeping car is being built for use on one of the country's mail railroad lines.

The number of rows of kernels of corn ordinarily ranges from eight to 20, with numbers sometimes running as high as 26 or more.

There are 30,000 persons in London living in cellars or basements.

THE WORLD series yesterday . . . so if you wanted to find somebody during the first half of the afternoon you had a pretty good chance . . . maybe the series will be all over by the time this goes to press . . . it isn't, people are going to go nuts on Saturday afternoon trying to listen to the broadcasts of baseball and important football games . . . get a couple of stations coming in at the same time and the athletes will be punting on the third strike and Martin will be doing the Notre Dame shift trying to steal the twenty yard line . . .

And speaking of athletics reminds us of the account of the first game of the series, written by an expert on the staff of the state's largest newspaper. It went like this: "Mose (Lefty) Grove . . . was in trouble on several different occasions, but the trusty right arm which enabled him to equal the American league record . . ."

Maybe he used it to scratch his head.

The hens down in Kenosha, near the airport, are becoming air-minded and are so conscious of the planes around the place that they are forgetting to lay eggs. Some of 'em try to imitate the planes and the rest are scared to death. So the poultry raisers are raising a kick and the hens keep trying to fly and another outgrowth of this nutty old world of ours keeps on being a problem. If they started feeding the hens a little gasoline now and then, maybe they'd get over their complexes.

Can't claim to understand Herb Hoover's new plan perfectly because any amount of money over fifty bucks is too much for us to comprehend. But, if the plan works, Herb can feel a lot better about his chances next year.

Ooooooh. No wonder Amalgamated Gadgets didn't want to get into the papers the other day. Yesterday we saw them make a brilliant reappearance. And, believe it or not, they were up ONE EIGHTH OF A POINT. At that rate it'll only take two years for 'em to get back to the "absolutely lowest low" point at which we bought them.

Those vaguely familiar, puzzled looking gent's whom you see wandering around town are not necessarily former residents coming back to avoid the depression.

Just the advance squadron of golfers, giving up for the year. Y'know, the boys who went away last spring. After the first blizzard, you'll see the rest of them.

Wild Bill went chattering around the unheated house yesterday, early in the morning. "S-s-say," he said, "can't you remember a few months ago when we had to k-keep the t-tan going all night s-so we could get some s-sleep?"

We dunked him in a bathtub full of n-nice c-cold w-water.

Why didn't somebody think to put that heat wave up in thermos bottles and save it for later use?

Just Folks
By Edgar A. Guest

THE WHISTLE BLEW

The whistle blew! The workmen ran to put their heavy tools away. The oldest and the youngest man. Scanned glad to greet the close of day. Upon the street with smile and jest. They joined the homes and journeying throngs. To claim a few sweet hours of rest. In spite of care and pain and wrong.

The whistle blew! A man looked out. And from the high window where he sat. And murmured as he gazed about: "It must be nice to quit like that!" Great care was heavy on his mind. He fretted over problems grim. And faced a task of sterner kind. The whistle could not end for him.

They could not see him from the street. So high above them all was he. Who still had ended his day's quest. He wished that moment to be free. They thought themselves the worse oppressed. Who had the dustier tasks to do. But from their labors they could rest. The moment that the whistle blew.

He watched them as a man looks out. On school boys romping in their play. They seemed so sturdy and so stout. So glad to put their cares away. While he, the rich man, troubled sat. Still taking thought and taking stock. And wishing that he could quit like that. And drop his cares at five o'clock. (Copyright, 1931, Edgar A. Guest)

Looking Backward

TEN YEARS AGO
Friday, Oct. 7, 1921

The Giants of John McGraw defeated the New York Yanks by a score of 13 to 5 in the third game of the world series that day in New York. Miss Marvel Stutzman and Alfred Schabo, both of Appleton, were married the previous Wednesday afternoon in St. Paul Lutheran parsonage.

The marriage of George Calhoun, Appleton, and Miss Mabel Benson, Niagara, N. D. took place the previous Tuesday at Menominee, Mich.

Luella Chilson Melius was to return to Appleton on Tuesday, Oct. 11, to give her first concert since she arrived from Europe after more than a year's study with Jean de Reszke.

Miss Dorothy Miller returned the previous day to her duties in Washington, D. C., after spending three weeks with her parents in Appleton. Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Moore entertained May Robson at dinner at their home, 626 Union-st., the preceding Thursday evening. Miss Robson played at a local theatre the night before.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Friday, Oct. 12, 1906

The unusual cold of the last three nights caused heavy damage in Outagamie-co. Prof. Edward Munn, Brillion, and Miss May Wetters, Milwaukee, were married the previous Tuesday at the residence of the Rev. Father Spranger, Brillion.

A dispatch from Missoula, Mont., dated Sept. 30, stated that John P. Grady, Missoula, and Miss Carrie McGillan, Appleton, were married that day by Judge Hayes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Corbett.

Miss Bertha Hyder, Appleton, was visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. M. E. Gerpin, Green Bay.

MANAGEMENT OF SPINAL CURVATURE

A reader sent this suggestion for those with spinal curvature (scoliosis):

Perhaps you could convey to F. C. G. (who inquired about exercises) a suggestion which may give some comfort to her daughter. I have a slight curvature all my life, and have received much advice. Only recently it was suggested to me that by wearing a small extra lift on the heel of the shoe on the side opposite the curvature I might be more comfortable. It certainly helps. My right hip is higher, and I wear the extra lift on the left heel. It is not noticeable, being only twice the height of the ordinary repair lift. I wish I knew F. C. G. I would warn her that her daughter should never sit on her left foot or carry books under her right arm or on her right hip. I have been inconvenienced all my life by this small defect, since dresses and skirts pull to the right side. It is astonishing how this extra lift on my shoe straightens my spine.—(Just a Friend).

Dr. Gulick observed many years ago that New York grammar school children toted home five pounds of books every evening—that was when the homework hounds were in control of the public schools of Hick Town. Now some of the schools there are trying to do away with the homework abuse or at least the better trained teachers endeavor to keep this evil down to a minimum.

Prolonged sitting at school desks under restraint is a large factor in the development of postural or functional curvature of the spine in children from 8 to 12 years of age. Antiquated notions of discipline still prevail in the common schools, and for some mysterious reason the quaint old-fashioned pedagogues still feel that whispering, moving about or other perfectly natural activities must be suppressed in the school room in order that the hypersensitive little mollycoddles may keep their attention on their studies. In actual life such abnormal quiet is nowhere required, not even in the public library where archaic rules are still posted but not much heeded by patrons.

Nowhere in business offices or work rooms is there any attempt to impose the severe quiet and "discipline" which some of these antediluvian school teachers and principals delight to have in the school room.

Uncorrected defects of vision, particularly astigmatism and muscular imbalance, contribute toward the development of spinal curvature. In many cases, and so does one-sided deafness.

But probably the most important cause, from the standpoint of prevention, is the studied neglect or rather ignorance of physical education in many schools that purport to be good schools. As the school worth any parent's confidence could train a boy or girl from the neck up and ignore the child's training from the neck down.

Piano and violin practice after school is bad hygiene for the delicate child, especially when there is inferior physical training in school. Voice culture is good for such a child, for it gives the advantage of training in posture and in breathing, which the low grade school fails to provide.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
This Lady Is Cold and Hot
I often wonder if you were a blacksmith forced out of business by the coming of the Ford, or if you ever earned any kind of honest living. If you sat in this office for just one eight hour day, with various windows open at top, ventilator at bottom, transom open too and the radiator probably turned off entirely you would learn to spell draft with a capital D. Yes, you would also begin to comprehend what "resistance" means. Trouble is some folks take you seriously, and think if a little draft is harmless of course you can't catch cold from a big one, a veritable hurricane. I don't see why you don't make a good job of it and advocate only windowless houses. Moving air may be all right for the blacksmith shop where you have a nice fire going close at hand, but good Lord, man, there is a place for everything. (Miss Skinny Shiver, our office Holy Frigate).

Answer—No, I was brought up in a sawmill where they have no doors. But I don't mind telling, Skinny, that I sympathize with you, honestly, and I think office workers are silly asses if they put up with actual discomfort from cold in order to have fresh air. How about putting screens of unbleached muslin in the windows and if anybody questions your method of ventilating the office, tell 'em you are following the advice of Ole Doc Brady.

Col. Spellers Redivivus. What, Spellers Redivivus, does it profit a man to wash the hands before eating if the forks and spoons are distributed by a greasball with a tie of scratching various portions of his probably lousy anatomy ever and anon? Or a courtmarten grabbing a handful of forks and spoons from a box which presently are inserted in the mouths of eaters. It is only luck if he happens to get hold of the handles of these. What do you think about obligatory sterilization of all restaurant dining tools and their subsequent wrapping in protective wrappers until used? (J. D. H.)

Answer—That would be false assurance. I have little faith in the value of such wrappers on anything. Kitten goods may be done up in beautiful wrappers. Personally, I have no qualms about eating with utensils that are just washed with water and served by persons who are not obviously filthy. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

The Tynmites
By Hal Cochran

THE Tynies to the Travel Man said, "Won't you tell us, if you can, about the funny tapir? We have never seen one before. It looks a very friendly sort. To play with it would be real sport. It snouts its nose at you when it eats you'd think it would get sore."

"Well, I will tell you all I know about this beast and then we'll go. Its hair is thick and wiry and its body short and fat. It's gentle, as you all can see and just as shy as it can be. When old its hair is blackish brown, but when young it's not like that.

"Instead, its spotted white, which makes a funny looking sight. When, as it grows, it changes till it's like the one you see. Its snout is of a funny sort and see its tail—it's very short! Four toes are on the front feet while the rear feet have but three."

Just then we Clowny coughed real loud. It started everybody in the crowd, and also Mr. Tapir. "There it goes," one Tyny cried. "You scared it, so it ran away. I'm sure it wouldn't care to play. He's heading for some tall tree. I suppose that's where it'll hide."

"Well, come along, boys! Follow me," the Travel Man said. "We will see some other things nearby that will amuse you quite a bit. Upon this island there are found queer looking animals all around. Ah, there's a sloth that's hanging to a tree limb. Look at it!"

"Oh, gee!" exclaimed one Tynymite. "It's hanging on with all its might. I wonder why it doesn't climb right up and take a seat? Before it's time for us to go I wish that it would swing real low. Most any sort of funny tricks would really be a treat."

A Bystander
In Washington
By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—There's one person close to Vice President Curtis in the capital who is not worrying particularly what decision he makes about politics in 1932.

She is a diminutive Kansas blond—Miss Lola Williams—the first woman ever to be secretary to the vice president of the United States. Mr. Curtis again may be second man on the Republican ticket. Or he might decide to try for his old seat in the senate. But to Miss Williams it makes little difference. "After all," she says, "it will be just the same. The boss will be the boss, and my job will be as pleasant as it is now, because he is that kind of a boss."

That's what she said when Mr. Curtis was elected vice president. She knows of no reason why she should change her mind now.

Stump Speaker

Essentially feminine, for with all her efficiency Miss Williams wears clothes that are good to look upon, she has long kept a vital force in the Curtis office personnel. She has taken the stump in Kansas when he was up for reelection, and her rise to chief of his capitol office staff is attributed to her initiative and perseverance.

The "boss" says she is the best secretary he ever had, because she "knows how to deal with people." And this, coming from a veteran in politics like Curtis means something. "She knows what to tell people when I am out," says the vice president. "She knows what to do with the mail—people write me about the efficiency with which she handles things."

As for Miss Williams, she insists that her success is due to the virtues of the boss. She is frankly proud of the fact that she is the first woman to be secretary to a vice president, but her rise in rank means little where the future is concerned.

If the vice president again becomes the senator from Kansas, then she'll be with him.

Feminine Touch

Incidentally, women secretaries to United States senators are by no means a novelty on "the hill." Veteran senators more and more are entrusting the care of their offices to them.

Borah of Idaho relies on a woman to keep his office functioning properly. The two senators from California—Johnson and Shortridge—both employ women secretaries.

McNary of Oregon, George of Georgia, Blaine of Wisconsin, Dale of Vermont, Glenn of Illinois, Moses of New Hampshire, Shipstead and Schall of Minnesota are among others. Mrs. Schall is her husband's secretary.

Today's Anniversary

CAPTURE OF POELCAPELLE
On Oct. 9, 1917, Field Marshal Haig captured Poelcapelle in Flanders and advanced two miles northward.

Field Marshal Haig's operations extended over a front of 10 miles. The French on the north pierced the German position to a depth of a mile and a quarter, capturing the villages of St. Jean de Mangelere and a northern hamlet of Veldhoek, with numerous intervening concrete redoubts.

This operation put the British and French within long-range gunshot of Roulers and gave them the principal heights of the ridge commanding the plain of Flanders.

With the advance on this date it became geographically, if not strategically, obvious that another drive of similar magnitude would unlock the German front from Buschoote to the sea. Such a drive, however, did not at once occur.

The movies, announcing a campaign for more wholesome pictures, cut down on production of sex films and broke out into a rash of gangster pictures. Well, Prof. Einstein is coming to America this fall, and maybe we will ask him to figure it out for us.

Seen And Heard
In New York

BY WILLIAM GAINES

New York—Don't blush when you mention your home town here.

You can walk for blocks without seeing a native born New Yorker, anyway, and so your Dakota or Carolina chamber of commerce might as well get credit for giving you to Papa Knickerbocker.

Just think, if their home towns got into the news as often as these notable New Yorkers, what it would mean to the roadside hotdog stands:

Maxwell Bodenheim, the pride of Greenwich Village, was born in Hermanville, Miss.; Ivy Lebetter Lee, Rockefeller's publicity man (excuse, please—public relations counsel), in Cedartown, Ga.; Rex Beach, author, Atwood, Mich.; Ernest Truex, actor, Red Hill, Mo.; Margaret Sanger, birth control champion, Corning, N. Y.; John Sloan, artist, Lock Haven, Pa.; Lenore Ulric, actress, New Ulm, Minn.; Wayman Adams, painter, Muncie, Ind.; Wendell Christopher Phillips, surgeon, Hammond, N. Y.; Dwight Deere Wiman, theatrical producer, Moline, Ill.; Frances Grant Starr, actress, Oneonta, N. Y.; John Barrett, diplomatist, Grafton, Vt., and Elsie Buschka Spicer, Delta fairy story writer, West Winfield, N. Y.

Several whose home towns have challenged them for page one space are: Brock Pemberton, theatrical producer, Leavenworth, Kans.; Francine Larrimore, actress, Verdun, France (she was born before the great siege), and Anna May Wong, Chinese screen star, Los Angeles, a west coast settlement of Iowans.

Just Imagine!

"Cats Dry Cleaned" is the specialty of a shop in the theatre belt. And several places offer feline and canine manicures for $1.

A friend reports that it cost him more to get a transfer company to move a living room suite from the dock to an address in the Bronx than it did to bring the furniture from New Orleans to New York by boat.

It was a bit unusual to find kids flocking to the Central park vading pool in the middle of September to cool off.

The old New York family name, Rhineland, hasn't figured in politics here for more than 100 years. But since then it has figured in the tabloids.

Lew Brice, Fannie's brother, never has got over his fondness for the horses—nor won back all the coin he dropped on 'em.

Sixty-one movie extras got a few meals out of working in a short with Ruth Etting at the Flatbush studio.

Oddities and Endings

When you interview John J. Raskob, questions which exercise his acumen bring him to his feet. He walks about while he dictates his answers.

Free sun tan from the "world's largest artificial sun lamp" goes with a $1 plunge in the use of a local hotel's free bathing suit, towel and locker are covered by the price.

But tanning continues to lose favor. The big revue producers insist that the girls keep their skin white this season.

With stocks rising after wage cuts, we are led to suspect that there is something, after all, to the truism that the rich get rich and the poor get poorer.

It's the last five dollars that count

The first three five dollar bills you put into a Fall suit won't take you far into fashion.

And even the fourth five goes very little further, for at $20 it is impossible to find the sort of clothing that a smart, level headed man has any business in getting mixed up with.

But . . . ADD THE LAST FIVE . . . AND PRESTO . . . YOU CHOOSE THEN FROM SCHMIDT QUALITY SUITS . . . the cream of design and the best in fabrics are yours.

In this season of lower prices on fine apparel, the real dangers lie in paying too low a price for too low a quality.

Mrs. Koerner Official Of Church Body

MRS. WALTER KOERNER, Appleton, was elected treasurer of the newly organized Women's Missionary Conference of the Northeast Wisconsin District at the organization meeting Thursday at the First English Lutheran church, Oshkosh. Mrs. L. E. Green, Bay, was elected president. Mrs. H. E. Smith, Appleton, was named chairman of the life and memorial department, and Mrs. M. J. Koerner, Appleton, was elected chairman of missionary education. The small federations in the state were organized into one state body at this time. Mrs. Katherine Lehman, of Appleton, was in attendance. The Rev. B. A. Koch, pastor of the Oshkosh church, gave the morning address.

About 25 persons from Rust English Lutheran church, Appleton, attended the meeting. The delegates were Mrs. E. B. Smith, Miss Wilma Olsson, Mrs. Elmer Schabo, and Miss Mabel Kranzsch. The Fireside Fellowship cabinet of the Methodist church met Thursday night at the church. The cabinet decided to send letters to all Methodist churches in Lawrence county, and to high school graduates in town who are eligible to membership, inviting them to attend the Fellowship hours Sunday nights at the church. Several books were discussed, and they will be presented to the group Sunday for reviewing by various members.

Betty Meyer will preside at the devotional Sunday night, and Margaret Briggs will be in charge of music. William Wiese will be the speaker.

The High School Epworth League will go to Oneida Sunday night to attend the Indian group. Reservations may be made with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bailey.

Miss Marie Bunk's evening circle of First English Lutheran church met Wednesday night at the home of Miss Lucille Lillie, 1750 N. Oneida, with 25 members present. Prizes were won by Mrs. Clarence Schultz, Mrs. J. Lautenschlager, and Mrs. Edward Smith. The next meeting will be Nov. 6 with Mrs. Clarence Schultz, N. Richmond-st.

Time Needed In Study Of Child Habits

BY ANGELO PATRI
There are many voices lifted in the chorus of child training. There are many of us fitted to give advice, and we are not slow in offering. Let the teachers and parents be a little slow in taking. Time to think between prescriptions is a necessary part of all treatments. You have difficulty with a child. He may be refusing his food, or he may be biting his nails, pilfering, neglecting his work in school. Anyone of the trials of child rearing may be yours day by day. You are going to skip but few of them. Keep your head and listen, and think, and then act. First, listen. Then read whatever book seems written to the point in question. Then consider your child as he is. Nobody has ever dealt with a child quite like this one. There is a shade of difference in every quality he possesses that sets him apart as an individual. It is as an individual he must be considered. We can at best set forth what principles of education and child training we have discovered, by experiment and experience, to be sound. The parent or teacher in charge of the child must modify and adjust the remedy to meet the situation as it is. What worked well with one child may not work at all with another. His special differences must be taken into account, your temperament and character counts, the environment counts, all life that touches the child, counts. Here is so delicate and so complicated a problem that one may well consider it at leisure and in the light of the best experience of the trained experts. Once you have cleared your mind of doubts, once you have seen the child and his difficulties clearly, it is time to proceed to take measures to help him. There is no hurry. Take time. Many a difficulty that loomed large as a mountain disappeared by morning and never returned to vex you. Time and leisurely thought gives a different aspect to many a problem. It is better to act leisurely than to repent hurriedly.

When once you have found the principle upon which your child works and grows to advantage hold to it. The fact that the neighbors do not do your way has no bearing on the matter. Hold fast to what you have found to be good for your child. When a child in his wisdom tries to hurry you into a statement or promise, hold fast to yourself. Tell him that you must have a little time to think the matter over. There is no hurry. Children are to live and continue growing for a generation or more. There is time for thought and my, how much it is needed.

To be sure experience will set some ideas early and you can act with promptness and dispatch. What I am asking is that you act after deliberation when the evidence is all in, or as much of it as you will ever get. That after viewing the matter from as many points of vantage as possible that you use your own good common sense. In the end you will have to fall back upon it. We can advise on generalities, but we can seldom help on the particulars. (Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

The Story of Sue

MARGERY HALE

Sue broke away from Dr. Barnes' restraining hands. She forgot that he had met her at the door and pulled her in from the storm. She knew only that Jack waited beyond. Jack, with startled wonder in his keen gray eyes—Jack, whose face was strangely white . . . "Jack, oh Jack!"

But he hesitated, and suddenly Sue was aware of the wet garments that hung so formidably from the damp, dark hair on her forehead, and the crushed beauty of the gay rose dress. She did not know that her hair had curled into ringlets that clustered with gay abandon everywhere, that her eyes were purple, not blue, in the breathless thrill of seeing the man she loved, that the thin rose dress outlined her slim body with a sort of challenging charm. She was lovely, but she didn't know it.

Jack had come back. She knew nothing else.

Then she remembered Dr. Barnes. Intuitively she knew why Jack had hesitated. He must have seen the other man's protecting arms go out as she stumbled up the steps. . . . Surely he couldn't think she had encouraged him? Wasn't it enough that he was back?

Sue's voice was a mechanical thing when she spoke again. She knew vaguely that she was telling Dr. Barnes that this was Jack Thornton, her fiancé, and explaining to Jack that she had been acting as Dr. Barnes' receptionists.

Sue knew that the two men shook hands.

Another blinding flash of lightning illuminated the room. Instinctively Sue moved closer to Jack, and as instinctively his arm went around her. His face stood out in the sudden glow. It was thinner.

His face across his forehead. She wanted to touch it. It was to press her lips against it. Oh, why did Dr. Barnes loiter? Couldn't he see that he was in the way? But Jack wasn't as brown as he had been. Had he been ill?

Dr. Barnes excused himself and went upstairs.

Jack waited at the door of the living room until Sue stepped through. He closed the door and followed her. She turned to him, her eyes dark with wonder. And then she was in his arms, and he was straining her to him, hungrily, possessively. There was the familiar smell of tweed and shaving soap and tobacco . . . Oh, Jack had come back! She forgot that she had been wet and lonely, that she had ever doubted him, and wondered if he doubted her.

"Sue, Sue darling, you do love me still?" he was asking her, with so much pleading in the deep low tones that she wanted to hug him hard, forever, and tell him that without him life was so much time with nothing to do.

"Love you, Jack?" Little bells danced breathlessly in the huskiness of her voice. "You don't have to ask me that!"

She forgot that he had moved and she had not known it, that his letters had come back unopened, that he had not written . . . He belonged to her and she was in his arms again. She had safety and security and refuge. Outside the storm raged on, and the rain lashed the windows. The memory of another night when he had tried to call her came drifting back. With the memory she remembered things that she wanted to know. "Jack," she asked softly, but he interrupted her.

NEXT: Jack explains.

School Frock

3396

BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON

Smart sophistication perfectly expresses this Paris dress for the school girl.

It's really quite simple. A circular shaped peplum flounce, added to the circular swaying skirt, gives it smart individuality. And don't you love the neck and sleeve frills? It may be bought already to sew in place at the neckwear counter. However, the pattern provides for same. The tailored jacket, button trimmed, is chic detail.

Brick-red sheer woolen with white organza is fashionable choice. Tweed mixtures, ribbed wool jersey, challis prints and many rayon novelties are lovely for this model. Style No. 3396 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

FACIAL PACKS BENEFICIAL TO SALLOW SKIN

BY ALICIA HART

A face pack will go far toward eliminating blackheads, correcting sallow skin and making the muscles of your face and throat firm.

There are six important steps in applying a facial pack. First, cleanse your skin thoroughly. If you have dry skin, clean your face and neck with cleansing cream; if it's oily, use a liquid cleanser. The second step, naturally, is the use of a good skin tonic. Soak a cotton pad in the preparation and pat your skin until it tingles. This stimulates circulation and makes the muscles firm.

For the third step, use a good nourishing cream. Be sure you choose one which suits your type of skin.

Size 8 requires 2 1/2 yards 35-inch, with 1/2 yard 35-inch contrasting.

WE WOMEN

By Virginia Vane

MOTHER MUST BE REAL FRIEND, AND PLAY FAIR

—LETTER TO MYRA H.

Dear Miss Vane: I have always trusted my daughter fully and she seems to confide in me about everything. But some time ago she started going with a young man who, although decent and honorable, is in no position to marry her for years. He has to help support his mother and he has not even a regular job yet. My girl seems to be in love with him, and she and he discuss marriage most of the time. I gather, although she assures me that she would not be so foolish as to throw her life away. She has promised me not to marry him until he is through with college and has a job but I am afraid, shall I write to the young man and ask him not to come to see her any more? Do you think that would solve the problem?

MOTHER.

That would be a very unfair method of attack. Your daughter confides in you. She regards you as her friend, and she has given her promise that she won't take any definite steps without your permission. In return for this confidence on her part, you propose to write a letter to her hero—a letter which will certainly stir up trouble for both young people and make them wretchedly unhappy.

In the first place, if you're a real friend of your daughter's, you can't take any step so drastic a nature, without first consulting her. You can't be a pal one minute and a firm-minded tyrant the next. If you want to hang on to her trust in you, you must play square—not suddenly take things into your own hands, with a view to ending the whole affair at one fell swoop.

The chances are that you'll not be successful in this attempt, anyway. Make an enemy of your daughter and she'll break her promise to you without scruples. You may drive her into a too-early marriage if you make this move. So long as she is your friend, so long as she has given her promise—I think you can trust both young people not to elope. And you will gain more with tact and understanding than with any forceful measure which may occur to you.

Dear Miss Vane: Will you please have this letter printed so that Myra H. can read it?

Dear Myra H.: About ten years ago I belonged to a group of girls who were known for their popularity with the big shots around town. When I married, someone less popular than our crowd I discovered quickly how important I was, not with my so-called friends. They began excluding me gradually from their gatherings until now my associations with them are only memories. But I don't regret parting with them for one moment.

Unless you have something very profitable in view, other than your never-to-be-sure friendship with this set, follow your heart. You can't mix too many things and expect the best results. Good luck to you.

HELEN PIERCE.

SEE HARD WINTER FOR CHILDREN OF INDIANS

Madison—(P)—A hard winter is in store for the children of the Winnebago Indian tribe who are maintained in a unique school in Wisconsin, according to Benjamin Stucki, head of the institution.

The school is located at Nellisville and was established by Jacob Stucki, a missionary, in 1878. Only private contributions to replenish its depleted funds can keep the institution in existence, Stucki said.

The children, ranging in age from 6 to 16, are the offspring of Winnebagoes whose ancestors were driven from their reservations in Nebraska half a century ago and after the Sioux uprising returned to Wisconsin. The Rev. Jacob Stucki established the school to revive their customs and adjust them to their new conditions.

The Rev. Stucki worked 15 years translating the Bible into the Winnebago language, his son said.

SICK HEADACHE?

It is not necessary to give-in to headaches. It is just a bit old-fashioned! The modern woman who feels a headache coming on at any time, takes some tablets of Bayer Aspirin and heads it off.

Keep Bayer Aspirin handy, and keep your engagements. Headaches, systemic pains, come at inconvenient times. So do colds. You can end them before they're fairly started if you'll only remember this handy, harmless form of relief. Carry it in your purse and insure your comfort while shopping, your evening's pleasure at the theatre. Those little nagging aches that bring a case of "nerves" by day are ended in a jiffy. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking Bayer Aspirin! You'll find these tablets always help. If you get real aspirin, you'll get real relief. In every package of genuine Bayer tablets are proven directions which cover headaches, colds, sore throat, toothache, neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, rheumatism, etc.

The tablets stamped Bayer won't fail you, and can't harm you. They don't depress the heart. They don't upset the stomach. So take them whenever you need them, and take enough to end the pain.

DELEGATES BACK FROM CHURCH CONFERENCE

Members of the Congregational Church have returned from the ninety-third annual meeting of the Wisconsin Congregational conference held at Green Bay Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. About 25 local persons attended some of the sessions of the conference.

Dr. H. E. Peabody and F. J. Harwood were placed on the state Congregational social service committee. Members of the conference were urged to push all measures that would tend to relieve the unemployment situation, and to advocate strongly the Word Court and a drastic reduction of armaments.

INGENIOUS PROCESS STOPS VARIATION IN FLAVOR OF COFFEE

Wonderful Flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee Is the Same in Every Pound

Many people have wished for a coffee that didn't vary in flavor. Hills Bros. Coffee is such a coffee. It is roasted by the patented, Controlled Roasting process that absolutely prevents variation!

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the exquisite, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time.

Controlled Roasting is different from the ordinary method of roasting several hundred pounds at once. The results—as a cup of Hills Bros. Coffee shows—are very different too! There is a refreshing smoothness that no other coffee has, because no other is roasted the same way. And remember, this marvelous flavor never varies!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans. Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale! Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

THEY'RE Milder. The best Turkish and Domestic tobacco that money can buy is put into Chesterfield. Chesterfield tobacco is the finest-textured, the smoothest and ripest that grows—ripened and sweetened in the sunshine, cured right by the farmer and aged right for two years in wooden hogheads. Mellow—and wonderfully mild!

THEY TASTE BETTER. These mild, smooth tobaccos are put together exactly right. The aroma of Turkish, the mellow sweetness of Domestic—blended and cross-blended. How it's done is Chesterfield's secret—but millions know how much better it tastes!

THEY'RE PURE. Everything that goes into Chesterfield is tested by expert chemists. The purest, finest cigarette paper made; a clean, right-sealed package. "Pure as the water you drink."

THEY SATISFY. The package... neat, clean. The cigarettes... well-filled. The paper... pure white. And with your very first puff, you notice they taste better. Pleasing and satisfying—Chesterfields just seem to suit you, right down to the ground.

Four hits—four good things about every Chesterfield cigarette. Remember: They are Milder—Taste Better—Pure—Satisfy.

GOOD...they've got to be good!

HOOVER PLAN GREATER THAN FIRST THOUGHT

Lawrence Calls It "Greatest Financial Cushion" in U. S. History

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1931 by Post Pub. Co. Washington — (CFA) — The magnitude of President Hoover's plan to rebuild confidence and carry America through the world-wide depression transcends even the first outline.

Besides the $500,000,000 banking pool to recede the slow assets of small banks, the president definitely has in mind the creation of the biggest financial cushion ever devised in America—a billion dollar government corporation, to give assistance to the railroads, to industry, to agriculture, and to every vital factor of American business requiring credit support.

The hope of course is that credit will naturally be eased as a consequence of the operations of the new banking pool which should begin in a fortnight, but realizing that it may take some time for the bond market to absorb for instance, railroad securities and other essential credits and that the whole investment structure may take time to mend, the new government finance corporation is planned as a timely auxiliary. When authorized by congress it may prove like its predecessor, the famous war finance corporation, to be of such moral value as to make unnecessary the use of the major part of its funds.

War Time Precedent

Although the war finance corporation was granted a capital of $500,000,000 by congress and had authority to sell its own bonds to the extent of three times its capital, it never became necessary to sell more than $200,000,000 worth of bonds. It succeeded in using the revolving fund in such a way that the total advances were in the neighborhood of $680,000,000. Since the president mentioned the war finance corporation in his formal statement, it is being assumed he now has the approval of congressional leaders of both parties for creation of such a body, but since action must be deferred till December, the tendency at first was to regard that step as somewhat in the distance.

It became known Thursday, however, that active preparations are being made for the setting up of the huge auxiliary corporation and that the same powers granted the war finance corporation will be sought by the president. A study of those powers recalls the amazing scope of that finance corporation and while running through its language is a constant reference to the necessity of "prosecuting the war," a simple substitution of the words "all things necessary to maintain and develop the economic strength of the country" would make it possible to do again or to be ready to do practically the same things that carried the United States through a previous national emergency.

Probable Loan System

The new finance corporation, if set up on the old structure as now seems likely, would be authorized to make loans for periods not exceeding five years "to any bank, banker or trust company in the United States which has outstanding loans to persons, firms, corporations or associations, the advances of the corporation not to exceed 75 per cent of the face value of such loans or loans."

Authority was also granted the corporation to make advances to savings banks, to building and loan associations and in fact to any legitimate enterprise provided about three-fourths of the total amount was properly secured. One of the biggest single powers had to do with the promotion of commerce with foreign nations. Advances for a period not to exceed five years were authorized to any person, firm, corporation or association "engaged in the business in the United States of exporting domestic products, provided they were unable to obtain funds upon reasonable terms through banking channels, such advances to be made only for the purpose of assisting in the exportation of such products and limited in amount to not more than the contract price therefor, including insurance and other charges to destination."

Broad Powers Granted

Any bank or banker or trust company "which made advances to any such person, firm, corporation or association for the purpose of assisting in the exportation of such products" were to be given loans. Sweeping powers to aid agriculture were granted, many of which now exist of course through the Federal farm board.

All advances by the war finance corporation had to be adequately secured by endorsement or pledge or guarantee and no funds were granted unless it was conclusively proved that credit could not be obtained in the ordinary channels. There is no doubt that the corporation now proposed would be able to buy and sell government securities and the cooperation of the Federal Reserve banks in many transactions would be given to facilitate the corporation's business.

Acts As Cushion

Briefly, the new finance corporation would function only during the depression and would liquidate itself as soon as credit conditions became normal so that there would be no criticism of "more government in business." Designed purely as a cushion against the destructive influences of the rumor monger and the pessimist, the vast powers of the proposed corporation may, happily prove superfluous, but their significance lies in the fact the government of the United States stands ready to supplement the bankers pool with a finance corporation that would be ready to do any and all things to prevent damage to the credit structure of America. Meanwhile until the new finance corporation is authorized by congress, the reliance of the govern-

TWO PIANISTS OF ENGLAND COMING HERE IN JANUARY

Ethel Bartlett, Rae Robertson on Community Artist Series

Two of England's most successful pianists, Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson, will present the third program of the Community Artist Series at Memorial chapel on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12. Season tickets for the series are now on sale at Belling drugstore.

Ethel Bartlett was born and educated in London. A winner of the Associated Board scholarship, she studied at the Royal Academy of Music with Frederick Moore and Tobias Matthay and in Berlin with Arthur Schnabel.

Rae Robertson, born near Iwerness in Scotland, studied with Philip Halstead, Edinburgh, while preparing for his M. A. degree at the university there. He won the Bucher scholarship for music and was preparing to go to Berlin when the war broke out. Instead, he came to London, studying for a short time at the Royal Academy with Matthay, until he joined the army.

In 1925 the two artists gave their first joint recital, which was received with much enthusiasm. Since then they have made a name for themselves in London, throughout Great Britain and Ireland and in Germany and Holland. In 1923 they came to the United States for the first time, establishing a reputation that has kept them busy in this country every season.

In addition to piano artists, the series this year offers the Don Cossacks Russian Male chorus; Sziget, the violinist; Richard Crooks, tenor; and Pauline Koner, dancer.

SCHABO Building Materials WERE SPECIFIED For The New SPANISH CASA

Most leading architects and contractors specify Schabo Building Materials, the architects because they want their plans carried out in a beautiful and permanent form, the contractors because they can do their finest work with fine materials. All the Sand, Gravel, Cement, Brick, and Stone for the new Spanish Casa were supplied by this firm.

For a great many years Schabo and Son have been called upon to furnish Building Materials of the highest quality for many local builders. It was only natural that Schabo and Son should be selected to supply the contractor with the necessary building materials so that he might complete the beautiful new Spanish Casa.

The determining factor in any good building... is Quality Materials such as were used in the New Spanish Casa.

Profit by the experienced judgment of architects and contractors. Whatever you are building or plan to build... let Henry Schabo and Son estimate for the needed building materials.

AMOS 'N ANDY ARE BLAMED FOR RIOT AT LEAVENWORTH

Leavenworth, Kas. — (C) — On top of all their other troubles, Amos 'n Andy were blamed by authorities of the federal penitentiary here for a disturbance among the convicts which ceased early Thursday after jeering, cat-calling and the smashing of window lights.

Abandonment of daylight saving time was a teammate of the pair in causing the disorder, the authorities said.

Heretofore the prisoners have been permitted to follow the vicissitudes of the proprietors of the Fresh Air Taxi company, which began at 9 o'clock p. m. central standard time.

However, with the abandonment of daylight saving time in favor of standard, the program does not go on the air until 10 o'clock central standard time, 45 minutes after the radio must be shut off by prison rules.

Spanish Casa Offers Large Variety Of Foods

Spanish, American and Chinese dishes will constitute the menus at the new Spanish Casa restaurant. Because the Casa has been designed throughout in typical architecture of sunny Spain, Spanish dishes will be the specialty.

Tables and chairs are of Spanish design. Table cloths and napkins are red checked. In addition to the 24 booths in the Casa patio, there are four tables on the main floor and six tables on the balcony over the new kitchen. Ten stools of Spanish design have been installed at the lunch counter in the front part of the building.

John Valde of Chicago, Ill., is the chef. Under him will be a corps of experienced assistants, including a chief waiter, captain, and 15 waitresses, dressed in Spanish costume. One group of girls will wait on trade on the main floor, and another group will be in charge on the balcony.

Serve Variety of Foods
Waiters and waitresses will receive special instructions in taking orders so they will be able to handle calls for every variety of food—Spanish, Chinese or American.

Mr. Verdo, the chef, has had an approximately 40 years experience. Before coming here he was in charge of a restaurant at Arlington Heights, and prior to his Chicago position he spent four years as chef at the Milwaukee club in Milwaukee. He also was former chef at the Chicago Real Estate Board clubhouse in Chicago.

He is a member of the Chefs of Cuisine Association of Chicago and the American Caterers' association. He has been culinary expert at hundreds of special occasions throughout the country.

The head waiter is a former member of the culinary and catering staff of the new Pfister hotel in Milwaukee. He will be in charge of the staff of waitresses, and will supervise the main floor and balcony.

Courteous service will be the slogan. Every effort also will be made to render speedy service. Costumes to be worn by waitresses were designed by Mrs. J. F. Banister and Miss Ida Sullivan. The costumes have been designed to blend with the Spanish color scheme of the restaurant.

SPANISH CASA TO OPEN ON SATURDAY

Decorators Expect to Finish
Work on Restaurant This Week

Formal opening of the new Spanish Casa restaurant at 114 E. College-ave has been scheduled for Saturday. Interior decorators are finishing their work this week, and new equipment is being installed in the kitchen.

The new restaurant is of Spanish architecture, the front being constructed of white Lannon stone. Interior decorations and fixtures also are of Spanish design, including a large water fountain and pool in the center of the floor.

Booths will be private, each being set off with colored tapestry. The booths are arranged in two rows, under overhanging roofs, resembling old Spanish residences. The roofs are of red Spanish tile.

A balcony sets off the north end of the restaurant. The balcony has been designed for private parties. It is furnished with oak furniture and decorative lamps. Pounded iron rails and heavy tapestry separate the balcony from the main floor.

A new soda fountain and lunch counter, equipped with small chairs of Spanish design, also has been installed. The lunch counter and fountain also are under overhanging roofs of red tile.

Beautiful Furnishings In Spanish Casa Restaurant

The beauties of old Spain with its white stone buildings, red tile roofs and Gothic arches have been brought to Appleton in the form of a new Spanish Casa restaurant at 111 F. College Ave. on the site formerly occupied by Butts' candy shop.

Distinctly Spanish in design the new restaurant is probably one of the most unique in the United States. Architects made a long tour recently before selecting the style of architecture.

The front of the structure constructed of matched Lannon stone resembles an old Spanish residence.

The front is trimmed with heavy oak windows and a heavy oak door set in an arch of Gothic design. Across the top of the front is an overhanging canopy of oak, trimmed with red tile. A large neon sign in green and red colors is suspended over the sidewalk. The glass in both the windows and door is etched in chromium plated copper.

A flagstone walk of polished rock has been constructed in the main entrance lending beauty to that part of the structure. Maroon curtains are in the two large front windows.

Like Spanish Patio

The interior of the Casa resembles an old Spanish patio with its grained columns and a rock garden constructed of imported lava stone. Water trickles over the rocks and into a pool in which fish and other aquatic life is seen. The bottom of the pool has been decorated with silver paint giving considerable luminosity to the surroundings.

The rock garden was erected three times before it was perfected. Twice it was necessary to reconstruct the pool because it was not water tight according to the designer.

Twenty-four booths on the main floor are arranged in rows on each side of the patio under overhanging roofs resembling two Spanish homes. The roofs are of rustic oak trimmed with red Spanish tile. Small windows with hanging balconies enclosed in hammered iron rails and balcony flower boxes beautify the upper part of the structure.

Each booth is equipped with cushions of heavy tapestry in various colors. Each booth also has its own lamp and ventilation. The tables and chairs are of natural oak.

Balcony Over Kitchen

A balcony has been constructed over the new kitchen in the rear of the building overlooking the courtyard.

The balcony has been erected and designed for private parties and other social events. Six tables with four chairs each and decorative floor lamps and a large chandelier adorn the balcony.

The front part of the building which is separated from the patio by a walkway with two grained columns houses the soda fountain, lunch counter and confectionary booths.

Peppermint Buns

This part of the structure is designed to resemble two old Spanish homes with a grained oak balcony and red tile roof. The soda fountain and confectionary booths are on the roof on the left side of the building and the long lunch counter with its colored stools is under the roof on the right side.

The counter stools add color to the entrance of the structure. The base and other metal structure is yellow and black and the cushions are of red leather. The counter and tables stand on a two tone green and brown design.

All new soda fountain fixtures have been installed including a refrigerator and cooling system. The lunch counter is equipped with the latest coffee pots of modernistic design.

The ceiling in this part of the Casa is decorated in many colors in a unique two large chandeliers which are suspended from the ceiling. Side lamps behind the soda fountain and lunch counter also harmonize with the chandeliers and ceiling.

The Casa was constructed by the Fred Plette company, and the Standard Manufacturing Co. furnished the lumber.

PLACE CINDERS, SAND TO BATTLE ICE, SLEET

Frank Appleton, highway commissioner, is making plans for combatting ice and sleet on county highways this winter. In consultation with advice received from him from the state highway commission, Mr. Appleton is preparing to place sand and cinders at all those places in the county where the formation of ice or sleet would prove a hazard to traffic.

Locally, as curves, turns, grade crossings and steep grades were it is necessary for motorists to apply sand, salt or other material to the road. When sleet or ice makes the pavements slippery, sand material can be used to rid the road of the surface to remove some of the danger. This practice followed last year and was found to be successful.

CLYDE MCCOY BOOKED AT CINDERELLA OCT. 18

Clyde McCoy's orchestra of Chicago, nationally known for dance programs broadcast from Chicago stations over national chains, will play at Cinderella ballroom Oct. 18, according to Charles Maloney, manager. The orchestra is best known for its rendition of "Sugar Blues."

177 PLUMBING FIXTURES ADDED HERE IN MONTH

A total of 177 plumbing fixtures was added to the Appleton system during September, according to the monthly report of George Gauslin, plumbing inspector. Mr. Gauslin made 24 final, 35 roughing and 45 sewer inspections during the month, and granted 33 permits for the opening of trenches.

ADD 143 MEMBERS TO Y. M. C. A. ROLL

No Change in Division Standings Reported at Last Night's Meeting

No change in standings of divisions in the annual Y. M. C. A. membership drive was reported when workers met last night and checked in with new memberships and renewals. The Plymouth division, headed by Adam C. Remley, continues to lead; the Ford division, with T. E. Orblison, chairman, is in second place; the Bicycle division, with Dr. E. L. Bolton at the head, is in third. The Chevrolet division of E. E. Sager trails in fourth place.

Yesterday's activities netted the association 143 new memberships with a total value of $1,901.75. The Ford division reported 43 members, the Plymouth 37, the Bicycle 32 and the Chevrolet 24.

The team of Captain George Nixon leads team groups with a 465 point rating. Ben Cherkasky's team is second with 429, Lacey Horton's third with 408 and G. E. Buchanan's fourth with 381.

Another meeting of workers will be held at 8:25 tonight at the association. The restrictions on cards was taken off yesterday and workers are free to take any card they wish. Tonight's report is expected to be one of the best of the campaign.

Who's News Today

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press
New York — George L. Harrison, governor of the federal reserve bank of New York, takes the initiative in bringing President Hoover's national emergency has brought to the footlights. Mr. Harrison began his business career as secretary to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. Some of the aloofness and dignity of the great jurist seems to have been implanted in the youth just out of Harvard, grooved smoothly through the succeeding years to eminence and wealth.

During the blatant decade of his accession, here was one banker of impeccable taste and impenetrable reserve. If the bankers are returning to sobriety, or even sack cloth and ashes, Mr. Harrison, with the staff and scrup of cautious finance, is the one to shepherd them along the back trail.

He was born in San Francisco in 1887, graduated from Yale in 1910, Harvard Law school in 1913, became secretary to Justice Holmes, assistant general counsel to the federal reserve system in 1914, general counsel in 1919 and governor of the New York federal reserve bank in 1928. He belongs to the usual clubs and plays golf.

It is quite possible that, in Baltimore today, Arturo Toscanini is holding the fingers of his right hand in two rigid pairs. He cables that some Jettatore, meaning one with the evil eye, has spread the rumor that he is ill. This writer once saw all Rome in finger convulsions because word was around that a Jettatore was in town. Signor Toscanini, however, says he is not ill, and will be here Oct. 22, to begin his seventh season as conductor of the Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra.

When the Fascist braves assaulted him at Bologna last year, the fiery little Napoleon of the baton stood pat on his refusal to play Fascism's hymn, and emerged with his gray head bloody "but unbowed," after his confinement at Milan. He finds Balreuth has a "banned theatre," and will undertake no more European tours.

During the war, in Italy, he played the funeral march from Götterdämmerung. The audience howled. He broke his baton into bits and threw them at the disturbers. "I am playing great music," he said, "but I play no more for such males." His phenomenal memory enables him to conduct without a score. He is implacable in his refusal to compromise his art, and he has broken many batons. He reveres Beethoven but sees some merit in jazz. He never uses the same baton twice and his daughter uses his hair. He commands unperpetually with his baton and wheelies subtle melodies, with his shapely left hand. He is simple, gentle and lovable with his friends and an explosive autocrat in his work. He is 64 years old.

Dr. C. E. Kenneth Mees, taking pictures in the dark at the Eastman Kodak plant in Rochester, is the gloomy dean of science. An Englishman, like Dean Inge, he doesn't think modern wizardry, translated in terms of every day happiness, amounts to much. He says:

"If I could exchange the life I have lived in a modern city for the life in Athens or the Periclean age, or Thebes under the eighteenth dynasty, I think I should undoubtedly accept it. In those days there was more leisure, less pressure, more opportunity for exchange of ideas. I doubt if the life of the agriculturist in any country today is happier than that of a peasant in the Nile valley, 4,000 years ago." A new note on farm relief.

In spite of his drab views, Dr. Mees has led a colorful life, having

SEEK EXTRADITION OF DEATH CAR DRIVER

Springfield, Ill. — (P) — Manitowish, Wis., authorities were here today in efforts to return to Wisconsin John McKetchnie, wanted in that state on a charge of manslaughter as a result of the automobile death of Miss Myra Boldt, daughter of State Senator Herman Boldt, Sheboygan Falls, Wis.

Miss Boldt died a year ago as a result of an accident in Manitowish, Wis. She was a passenger in an automobile driven by McKetchnie. The driver later was arrested in Oak Park but has fought attempts to return him to Wisconsin for trial. His attorneys said they would attempt to have set aside a warrant issued by Gov. Philip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin seeking McKetchnie's return.

SEE AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES IN RECOVERY FIRST

Farm Products First to Suffer from Deflation,
Professor Says

MADISON —(P)—Agricultural commodities have suffered more than non-agricultural commodities during the depression but they may be expected to recover first, according to Prof. I. F. Hall of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Prof. Hall said he believed the recovery of farm prices will be slow and that the present is not time for major expansion inasmuch as the long-time trend of prices is downward. He called the general farming situation "so discouraging that it is difficult to even talk about."

The index of Wisconsin farm prices this year will be less than 100 as compared with more than 150 during the years 1926 to 1929. Gross farm income, he said, for 1930 was 20 per cent less than for 1929 while farm costs declined only two per cent.

"The long time movement in the price level has played a part very important in the agricultural industry," Prof. Hall said. "Non-agricultural industries cannot enjoy the prosperity and expansion which they have during the next 10 years. This fact will affect the rate of expansion for agriculture."

Also, Prof. Hall said, people are eating less per capita than 25 years ago and the population is expanding at a lower rate, both having a relationship to the demand for farm products and future farm returns.

Prof. Hall listed the following seven points as major ones in the outlook for the future: general price decline; high labor costs; high freight rates and handling charges; high retail prices; demand for choice products; conservative credit policies; more competition on quality.

Under "adjustments needed," Prof. Hall lists: care in long-time investments; less labor per unit of product; more fertilizer and less labor; better seed; better disease control; produce quality products; produce perishable and bulky products at home; keep only good livestock; cull vigorously and promptly; eat more home-grown products; have an efficient garden; get debts into shape; plan and study business more.

BUSINESS MEN PUSH PLANS TO FORM CHAMBER

C. K. Boyer, President of Appleton Group, to Deliver Address

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—C. K. Boyer, president of Appleton Chamber of Commerce, will address a gathering of New London business men at a dinner at Legion hall Monday evening, Oct. 19. Milton Timm, secretary of the Plymouth chamber also will be here. He will outline organization plans. Men active in the organization of a similar body at Shawano also are expected to be present.

Presiding at the dinner will be F. J. Zaig, chairman of the committee named by the three service clubs of the city. Assisting him in the details of the dinner will be Dr. M. A. Boyer, Emil Gehlert, Guy Blomquist, and J. E. Bentz. Others of the club will aid in drafting a financial and organization plan, and following the banquet it is felt that enough material will have been gathered so that the solicitation of members for a New London chamber may go forward.

A short program of music is being arranged and members of the committee plan to use the question box method in an open forum. Following the dinner plans will be formed and committees named to carry out organization of a local chamber.

NEW LONDON SOCIETY

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Plans are being made for a pancake supper by Emanuel Lutheran Ladies Aid society at the church parlors on the evening of Oct. 28.

A 6:30 dinner, business session and program is planned for the Walther League rally at Manawa on Oct. 18. Members of the local league will join with five other societies at this gathering of Lutheran young people. Dinner speeches are planned, the topic of several five minute speeches to be given about the question, "Walther League, What is it, Why it is and Does it Pay?"

Going at the meeting of the Shooting club, members of which are C. K. Boyer, J. E. Bentz, and C. K. Boyer, Mrs. Paul Fernanich won first place Wednesday afternoon with a score of 98 out of 100. This exceptional shot was made in four attempts, during which Mrs. Fernanich hit the bulls eye three times, counting for 20 points each time, and on the fourth attempt made 18 more. E. E. Thiers, high shot during the past several weeks, got 94 points, while Mrs. Ray Thomas came in third with a 91. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 20.

Mrs. J. F. Croak will entertain the Leisure Hour club at her home on Oct. 15. The assisting hostess will be Mrs. John Nugent. A new member is Mrs. J. J. Kirchner, who takes the place of Mrs. M. J. Meinhardt.

Mrs. Mary Sheerin of Neenah was present as state officer for the annual inspection of the Woman's Relief corps this afternoon. A short program was to be followed by refreshments. The committee consists of Mrs. Alma Surprize, Mrs. Katherine Yost, Mrs. Edna Ziebell, Mrs. Mary Pace, Mrs. Elizabeth Garot, Mrs. Stella Brown, Mrs. Flonnie Penny, Miss Meta Popke, Mrs. Katherine Thomas, Mrs. Eleanor Haase and Mrs. Monnie Halin. Mrs. Sheerin was the guest of Mrs. Ruth Manske, president of the order, at a luncheon given at the Edna Ziebell home today. The local corps will attend the fall convention of the 14th district at Hortonville next Thursday.

The Thursday bridge club met this week at the home of Mrs. J. J. Burns, Beacon-ave. Mrs. Norman Ortleb was awarded the prize.

At the home of Mrs. Alfred Bruyette on Wednesday afternoon officers of the missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church were elected. The same staff of officers again will preside. These persons are Mrs. M. J. McKee, president; Mrs. C. J. Dean, vice president; Mrs. James B. Graham, secretary; and Mrs. L. S. McGregor, treasurer. A study program in charge of Mrs. McKee followed the business session. Mrs. L. S. McGregor was in charge of the chapter study.

HORTONVILLE WOMEN TO GO TO AUXILIARY MEET

Special to Post-Crescent
Hortonville—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lapp entertained friends from Oshkosh Saturday night at a dinner at their home on Pine-st. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Tellock, Misses Edna Sommers and Alvin Schreiber.

A group of friends surprised Mrs. Chris Halley at her home Sunday evening, it being her birthday anniversary. Thirty guests were present and spent the evening in playing sheephead. Prizes were awarded to Miss Aleta Bottrell, Wesley Prentice, Mr. and Mrs. Art Van Aalstine.

The Ninth District conference of the American Legion auxiliary will be held at Marinette Saturday. Sessions will be held at the Masonic Temple and the banquet at the New Marinette Hotel. The following members are planning on attending: Mesdames Laura Otis, Norma Mathewson, Carrie Lucke, Mame Steffen, Gladys Keller, Eva Gundersen, Gertrude Diester, Elsie Klein and Alta Hough.

The Ladies Aid society of the Baptist Church realized the sum of $54.84 from their chicken dinner at the church basement on Wednesday.

Hardwood slabs, load $6.50;
Softwood slabs, load $5.00.
In cellar. No fee. Call 113-W.
Free Dance at Schmidt's
Pavilion, Sunday, Oct. 11.

POOR DUCK HUNTING, MOST HUNTERS REPORT

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Duck hunting thus far has not been successful for the majority of hunters. Only a few hunters have returned to the city with game, and in nearly all cases one or two ducks was the largest bag exhibited by any one hunter. Many sportsmen state that hunting is extremely hazardous, due to the large number of hunters.

The same have been reported by those who have driven north for partridge, prairie chicken and grouse. The first two days, assert these men, were excellent for hunting, nearly all hunters getting from one to four birds. Since that time more hunters than in any previous season have returned empty and the birds are shy and wary are, in most cases, on the wing and away before a gun can be sighted.

CHURCH MEETING HELD AT BRILLION

Pastors and Delegates Are Present from 13 Cities,
Villages

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Brillion—The second annual meeting of the Fond du Lac regional conference of the Evangelical synod of North America was held at the Friedens Evangelical church here Tuesday and Wednesday. The Rev. Paul Kasper is pastor. The outstanding speaker at this meeting was the Rev. T. Lehman, president of the synod. Other speakers were: the Rev. Joseph Schmidt of Black Creek; District President E. C. Grauer, Wausau; the Rev. E. C. Kollath, Neenah; the Rev. Frank Ludwig, Berlin; the Rev. Theodore Irion, and the Rev. P. Stange, Oshkosh. Pastors and delegates were present from Brillion, Kaukauna, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Appleton, Manitowoc, Black Creek, Calumet, Wausau, Berlin, India, Elmhorst.

A Royal Neighbor meeting was held Thursday evening. District Deputy Mrs. Marie Hanke of Neenah was present. A luncheon was served after the meeting.

HOLD SERVICES FOR LITTLE CHUTE WOMAN

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Little Chute—Funeral services for Mrs. Anton Vanden Broek, 82, who died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Vander Wylt, were held Thursday morning at nine o'clock at St. John church. The Rev. John J. Sprangers was in charge of the services. Members of the St. Elizabeth society of St. John church, of which the decedent was a member, attended the funeral in a body.

Bearers were: John H. Vanden Heuvel, Albert Vandenberg, Henry Van Der Horst, Do Erwin, John Vanden Heuvel and Joseph Van Handle. Interment took place in the Catholic cemetery. The decedent is survived by her widower, one son, John of Appleton and three daughters, Mrs. Dora Pompa of Appleton, Mrs. William Vander Wylt of Little Chute and Mrs. Anton Van Der Horst of Colby. Two young grandchildren and nineteen great grandchildren also survive.

Miss Helen Vanden Heuvel entertained a group of friends at her home Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. Games and music provided amusement. Prizes were awarded to Misses: Koenig, Angelina Jansen, Barbara Van Duinhoven and Thelma Smith. Guests were: Misses Theodora Lenz, Grace Hermans, Margaret Koenig, Margaret Wynboom, Alice and Angelina Jansen, Mildred Vanden Heuvel, Margaret Vanden Heuvel and Barbara Van Duinhoven of Little Chute; Misses Gertrude and Thelma Smith and Rosemary Reider of Appleton.

Members of the Women Catholic order of Foresters held their monthly meeting Wednesday evening at the Forester hall. One new member, Miss Geraldine Gloudemans, was initiated. Following the business meeting cards were played and prizes were awarded. Mrs. Dora Hammen, Mrs. Nicholas Helf and Mrs. Ernest J. Miron, hostesses for the evening were Mrs. George Hermans, Mrs. Cornelius Van Dyke and Mrs. Joseph Koenig. Plans were made to hold memorial services for the deceased members on Nov. 10. It was also arranged to hold a jam and jelly shoveler at the next meeting for the orphans at the Green Day orphanage.

Members of the Little Chute volunteer fire department held their monthly meeting Monday evening at the village hall. Following the business meeting cards were played and prizes were awarded by George Hermans and Gregory Lenz. The condition of Arnold Vander Loop, Wilson-st who has been seriously ill is greatly improved. Miss Irene Gloudemans of Burlington is spending a few weeks at her home here.

SAWMILL OPERATIONS BEGIN NEXT WEEK

New London—In accordance with the program, proposed by Gov. Philip La Follette, to restrict production but at the same time to spread employment throughout the lumber industry, the Hatten Lumber sawmill of this city will begin the season's operations next week. According to present plans the cutting of logs will call for one shift, based on spreading the work over the entire winter. At times the usual two shift plan may go into effect, but only for short periods.

The company mill at Saxon will not operate during the winter, thus throwing this added amount of material into the local yards.

WATER MAINS LEAK ON DORR-ST

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Dorr-st, the bane of the street commissioner's existence, again caused trouble this week when the heavy rains brought about a leak in a water main. Water began oozing through the road bed

PLAN HEARING ON CLOSING OF BEAR LAKE ROAD

Protests Expected at Meeting in Manawa Pavilion
Saturday

Manawa—Efforts may be made to entirely close the old road on route 22 around Bear Lake—that picturesque winding highway that runs along the edge of the lake—unless protests are heeded at a public meeting called to discuss the proposal at the Bear Lake dance pavilion at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The road is located in the Royallton and will not be a main highway when the new concrete road opens next week.

Attention was brought to the future status of the old road with Ralph Conroy, owner of considerable property on the old road near Bear Lake, requested the northern end to be closed from the northern end to the intersection of a private roadway several rods south that connects the old road with the new concrete. A petition was presented to the town board of Royallton and bore six signatures.

It is understood that members of the county board and representatives of the several sections of the county will be present at Saturday's meeting to protest the closing of the road, particularly the entire old route. "If we close one end it is our opinion that we might as well close the other," also," Louis Ruch, chairman of the town of Royallton, stated. "How- ever, we will hear the opinions of everyone concerned at the Bear Lake session."

Addresses Farmers
"I'm not here to tell you men what organization you should join, but I would advise that the association with which you connect your selves be headed by farmers for the particular and direct benefit of farmers," State Senator Herman J. Severson of Iowa told a crowd of nearly 300 dairymen and their wives at a meeting at Adam's Park, Symco, Tuesday evening. The event was called to discuss the problem of milk co-operatives.

Mr. Severson discussed the possibilities to the dairymen of two or three organizations, and told of bills he had introduced in the legislature which he believed would benefit agriculture—if they had become laws. Adam Schider presided at the meeting, Alvin A. Handrich, Wm. Feasby, and Max Murray gave short talks. No action was taken at the session, Tuesday evening. Following the speeches a dance party was given.

This mild October weather has resulted in a number of fall phenomena in this territory. The J. C. Jensen family at Royallton had meal of green peas from their own garden one day this week, barley and oats are heading out on a number of farms, raspberry bushes show blossoms and numerous green berries, and lilac bushes are budding.

Milk Prices Advance
If advances in the price of milk can be accepted as a sign of returning prosperity, the depression ought to be about over. In May of this year local dairymen were receiving $1.05 per hundred pounds for milk that tested 2.5 per cent. Since that time the advances have been steady, sometimes coming as often as twice a month. The peak for the year was reached this month when the Board of Agriculture announced an increase of ten cents per hundred pounds in the value of 3.5 per cent milk, which is being paid for at the rate of $1.40. Four per cent milk brings $1.60.

Ralph Quimby was this week appointed agent at Manawa for the Standard Oil company. He succeeded Clarence Mead, resigned. Mr. Quimby has until recently been employed by the Wisconsin Power and Light company. Mr. Mead has represented the Standard Oil company here for the past thirteen years. He is undecided about his future plans.

Officer Suspended
Arthur A. Havitt, motorcycle policeman at Waupaca, was given a 30-day suspension by the city council on complaint that he accepted a $100 bribe from a Milwaukee jewelry salesman.

Residents and business men of Royallton who protested the closing of the Green Bay and Western road station at the village have again received no reply from the Public Service commission of Wisconsin regarding the application for a hearing made several weeks ago.

MRS. CHARLES DANKE DIES AT READFIELD

Special to Post-Crescent
Readfield—Mrs. Charles Danke, 71, died Thursday noon at her home here. Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:30 Sunday afternoon and at 2 o'clock at Lutheran church, with the Rev. F. Welland in charge.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED AT JOINT MEETING

District Commander Is in Charge of Legion,
Auxiliary Event

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—The annual joint installation ceremonies for the new officers of the American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary took place Wednesday evening in the club rooms of the F. W. D. Barracks. Carl F. Knapp was installed commander of the Legion; Leo Pelishek vice president; commandant; William McCaw, second vice commander; Norman Hansen, adjutant; A. C. Fritz, finance officer; Earl Siebert, historian; Evan Vaughn, sergeant-at-arms; Gilbert Buckbee, chaplain; S. A. LaViolette and Harry Peotter, executive committee. Robert Monk of Wausau, commander of the Eighth District was the installing officer. Dr. J. Cohen of Wausau, state Athletics Officer of the American Legion talked on promoting Athletics among the young boys of the community.

Mrs. William McCaw was installed president of the Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. F. C. Welch, first vice president; Mrs. J. H. Stein, second vice president; Mrs. Henry Laux, secretary and Mrs. Charles Laux, treasurer. They were installed by Mrs. W. B. Berg of Iowa, who is committed woman for the eighth district.

A dinner for about 80 preceded the evening's program. Those in charge of the arrangements for the dinner were Mrs. J. H. Stein, Mrs. M. B. Larson and Mrs. William McCaw. Musical numbers were furnished by a vocal octette of high school girls under the direction of Miss Edith Gray. Mrs. F. C. Welch gave a recitation and a violin solo was played by Milton Nelson with piano accompaniment by Miss Gray. The large barn on the farm of Arnold Koeller on route 5 was struck by lightning and burned to the ground during the severe electrical storm early Wednesday morning. The season's crops of hay and grain were burned but no livestock was lost.

Royal Neighbors met Wednesday evening and conducted initiation ceremonies. Mrs. Charlotte Enman of Abbotsford, district deputy, was present and spoke to the members. A delegation from the local camp will attend the U. N. A. county convention Oct. 23, at Waupaca. Plans were made to hold a public card party in the O. P. hall on the evening of Oct. 21, with Miss Elsie Dahm chairman of the committee in charge. A social hour and covered dish luncheon followed the meeting.

The Busy Twelve met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Timm on Power-st. The time was spent socially and a luncheon was served by the hostess. The club will entertain in two weeks at the home of Mrs. H. M. Jesse.

Mrs. Henry Hedko was hostess to members of her Larkin club Wednesday afternoon. Eight women were present and cards were played after which a lunch was served.

Authorities Seek Gang Of Forgers At Manawa

Manawa—Waupaca-co authorities are on the lookout for unidentified individuals who have forged numerous checks on the First National and Farmers State banks of Manawa. About 40 checks, totaling several hundred dollars, have been cashed by merchants in Shawano, Menasha, Appleton, Clintonville, Marion, Big Falls, and other places, none of them good and all of them made out on one of the two Manawa banks. It is believed that two or three individuals have been taking part in these activities during the past two weeks, as not all the checks are signed in the same handwriting.

Some of the names are those of local people while others are fictitious so far as this locality is concerned. The name "Hoffman" is a favorite of the individual who carries a Farmers State bank check book. The first name used may be either Fred, Carl, Charles, or Bill. Others have the signature of "Albert Abraham," "Albert Seelig," or "Walter Lang." Half a dozen checks have also been signed by "Carl Mundell," and endorsed by "Emil Mathias." The latter is the name of a deaf mute living near Manawa but the signature is forged. False signatures on First National bank checks include "Albert Abraham," "Walter Lang," and "Paul Ebert."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL NEWS NOTES FROM DALE

MOST BANKS IN GOOD POSITION TO MEET CRISIS

Majority of Institutions Have Thoroughly Fortified Selves

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York—If the depositor in a national or state bank or trust company will take the trouble now to look at the figures now being published by these institutions under the call of Sept. 30 he will at once realize the unusually liquid position of the banks generally and their ability to meet any crisis that may face them. For weeks they have been fortifying themselves against untoward circumstances and, while from the nature of their liquid assets their earnings may not be satisfactory to stockholders, their position is most reassuring to depositors.

The liquid position of a bank is expressed in the item of its cash on hand, the amount due from other banks and its holdings of government securities. These figures are usually set out as leading the list of the bank's resources. There are other items less visible in the statement but also of a liquid character. Analyzing these reports, one finds that among the New York institutions the ratio of liquid assets to deposits runs from 40 to 60 per cent. In one instance the total of cash and government securities exactly balanced deposits.

Duplicated Elsewhere
Under normal conditions a bank that had liquid assets say of 20 to 25 per cent would be considered in an unusually sound condition. What has been shown by New York is duplicated in the statements already published by institutions in other large centers of the country as well as by many so-called "country banks."

Before the Sept. 30 statement appeared, it was not possible for the average bank depositor to determine just how liquid his bank had been made, for the last previous report was that of June 30. In the intervening three months had occurred the greatest shrinkage in securities in world history. Now that up to date figures are available, however, there is no longer justification for that foolish alarm.

But Hoover, in his statement which had been accompanied by wholly unjustifiable withdrawal of currency from the banks and had led to hoarding estimated as high as $1,000,000,000. Another phase of this is reflected in the taking of money from the banks and depositing it in the postal savings system to such an extent that the deposits of this system at the end of September approximated $450,000,000, of which nearly 30 per cent had been added during that month.

During 1930 there were in the United States 1,826 bank suspensions involving deposits of $884,000,000. Of this number 138 banks with about $35,000,000 deposits reopened. In the eight months to Aug. 31 this year there were 932 suspensions affecting deposits of about $699,000,000. Of the banks that had failed, no less than 195 with deposits of $117,000,000 have reopened. The September record of failures was a serious one; all so that in the first week of October. It was the steady increase in the number of suspensions of this month and in the alarm of the depositor that had much to do with bringing about Tuesday's conference and the subsequent formation of the banking pool.

One of the unfortunate results of bank suspensions is the indefinite tying up of the funds of the depositors. This works great hardship on individuals and on their communities. Recoveries of banks have been extremely slow in liquidating their institutions and in returning to depositors that portion of the proceeds of marvellous assets due them. This delay was carried to an aggravating degree in the case of the bank of United States. Normally there is no reason why a bank that may eventually liquidate at 60 to 75 cents on the dollar cannot pay out to its deposit-

Many Organizations Use Y. M. C. A. And Facilities

The far reaching influence of the Y. M. C. A. in Appleton's daily activities is shown in a recent report of outside organizations which regularly use the association for meetings, use its facilities, or its employed staff. The association now is in the midst of its annual membership campaign.

The Church School Superintendent's club regularly meets at the association; as do members of the Star League of Christian Endeavor, and young people's groups from 15 different churches. Red Cross life saving activities are centralized around the association pool and boy scout swimming tests are given there.

Annually there are business men's study groups, community playground baseball teams hold their meetings in the assembly rooms, the Congregational church regularly holds Sunday school classes, a grade school baseball league was organized by the association last year, the Salvation Army used the building for headquarters after its own building was destroyed by fire, and a city-wide free swim campaign for boys and girls is held every summer.

There is a free employment bureau, and lodging often is given needy men. The building is used by convention delegates, especially those, within a few weeks of its suspension, at least a third of their claims.

This has been recognized by the comptroller of the currency who will recommend a plan to congress under which the creditors of insolvent banks may obtain a portion of their deposits within a few days of the suspension. This scheme provides for the formation of a "revolving fund," out of which these early payments may be made and the liquidation of assets facilitated. There are numerous cases at present where local and state funds are represented in the deposits of closed institutions. The inavailability of these funds has immediately checked all public improvements in the neighborhood and added to the number of unemployed.

the showers, swimming pool and lunch room. Reading rooms, social rooms, telephone and information bureaus also are used regularly. A tourists bureau often helps people find rooms in the city.

Last year the association promoted a father and son banquet, the annual week of prayer, and six H. Y. clubs. It was a stopping place for high school football teams, it encouraged its employed staff to take part in various financial campaigns, it sponsored the "knot hole" gang of youngsters for high school and college football games.

Lutheran Aid association members met at the "Y," Isaac Walton groups, bankers' groups, the Civic Council, city and Fox River Ministerial associations, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Little Fox River Baseball leagues, Junior civitan group, legion junior baseball league, religious day school council, the American legion executive committee, Optimist club and similar groups. Lenten shop meetings were sponsored by the association and post office examinations given by postal examiners.

TIME'S SCOTCH HAS CUT ITS SWATH
Camden, N. J.—Only two men are left to attend the annual reunion of the old Twelfth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers of the Civil war. They are James P. Stanton, 86, of Camden and William H. Sayres, 90, of Clayton, N. J.

On Sept. 4, 1862, the Twelfth Regiment, composed of nearly 1,000 soldiers recruited from New Jersey, marched off to war. In three years of strife, during which it was part of the Army of the Potomac, and was present at the surrender of Lee, the regiment lost half its original men. Since the annual reunions started in 1873, all remaining members of the regiment have died but seven, only two of which are able to attend.

Last year Isaac Haines, 85, made the third man at the reunion. Since however, he has died, and the two survivors have decided to discontinue the meetings.

QUESTION FRIEND OF SLAIN SUSPECT

Detectives in Des Moines Kill Man in Battle in Fashionable Hotel

Des Moines—(P)—Detectives who shot and killed a man believed to be B. C. Case of Minneapolis, in a gun fight on the sixth floor of a fashionable hotel here today questioned unsuccessfully his companion, J. C. Shores, also of Minneapolis.

Shores, who walked unsuspectingly into the hotel after the shooting yesterday, told police that he was a bridge table salesman. He did not, however, explain the presence of seven guns and 200 rounds of ammunition in the room which the two occupied.

Detective Loren Miller, who with Detective Fred Sillick went to the hotel to investigate a report that two machine gun salesmen were registered there, said Case started the firing.

Case attempted to reach the stairway from the sixth floor but turned and began shooting when he detected he was being followed. Miller said. Miller returned the fire and Case fell, fatally wounded. The detective suffered a severe hand wound.

Beneath Case's body was a revolver which had not been fired, but the gun which Miller said the stranger used in the battle was not found. In Case's pocket were $1,600 cash and 16 cartridges. Shores, when trapped in the hotel here, carried a revolver and two pints of alcohol, police said.

OFFER CORRESPONDENCE COURSE IN AVIATION

Madison—(P)—A course in aviation by correspondence is offered by the University of Wisconsin this fall for the fourth year.

Prof. C. D. Case, former navy flier is in charge of the course. Instruction covers everything from elementary principles to the knowledge required for qualifying for a transport pilot's license.

The course in elementary aeronautics is designed to aid students through the first four subjects in the government's examination for transport license. The course in meteorology and navigation has been the most popular for these engaged in flying, Prof. Case said.

Regular classes are given in various cities of the state in addition to the correspondence work directed from the University at Madison.

HIGHWAY 41 PROJECT PROGRESSING SLOWLY

It is not expected that work on the underpass at Lawrence crossing on Highway 41 in the town of Lawrence, about three miles south of DePere, will not be completed until late this fall. The underpass will permit traffic on Highway 41 to pass beneath the tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. This section of the highway is closed to traffic now and motorists are detoured over a county trunk into DePere.

A machine has been invented to peel willow sticks that are to be used in weaving baskets and making furniture five times as fast as the work can be done by hand.

It will be placed in an ordinary cardboard carton and this will be DROPPED FROM THE ROOF-TOP OF THE NEW IRVING ZUELKE BUILDING TO THE PAVEMENT! We claim that this patented jar-proof watch will not only survive this tremendous shock, but that it will be found to be running and in good time-keeping condition. Mayor Goodland will pick up the watch after it has struck the pavement

Remarkable, that any watch can stand up after such a severe test — a watch that has amazed experts by its great ability to survive the most tremendous tests — It's a

Gothic JARPROOF Watch

TO BE JARPROOF A WATCH MUST BE A GOTHIC WATCH

This is the watch that is launching a new era in time-piece history... It means the end to watch-coddling and to mounting repair bills. It is absolutely all the name implies... It is, under all conditions—all circumstances—absolutely JARPROOF!

We invite you to be in front of the Zuelke Building, tomorrow afternoon at 10:30 A. M. and witness this great demonstration and also to come into our store and inspect the watch yourself after its plunge.

25,000 WORKERS IN BAY STATE NOW ON STRIKE

Reduction in Wages Cause of Controversies in Most Instances

Boston — (P)—More than 25,000 jobs went begging in Massachusetts today as workers, incensed by announced reductions in wages or by unsatisfactory working conditions, walked the streets on strike.

The strike movement, having its center in the textile city of Lawrence where approximately 22,000 men and women left their looms and benches rather than accept a 10 per cent reduction of wages, today had spread to other centers. In Boston approximately 5,000 longshoremen were refusing to handle cargo on the coastal and foreign vessels plying in and out of this port although the crux of their quarrel with the ship owners was not entirely a matter of wages but centered with greater gravity on a working condition.

In the textile city of Lowell, a geographical neighbor of Lawrence, strike talk had brewed several days and was transformed into action yesterday when more than 300 employees left one of the mills. An announced 10 per cent wage cut here, also, was the motivating element. Several hundred workers in a hosiery manufacturing plant in Northampton, objecting to wage reduction, succeeded in forcing the closing of the plant. There was no indication of an early settlement of the differences today.

The city of Lawrence, with its principal industry practically idle, is in the worst predicament. Yesterday strikers' pickers succeeded in drawing away sufficient workers to cripple the last of the large American Woolen company plants to operate. In addition, the Pacific mills and Arlington mills, employing large numbers were silenced.

Positions of Two Sides
The mill owners in this city contend that unless a reduction of 10 per cent in wages is made effective, their mills cannot survive "the ruinous

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HOLD PEP MEETING

School spirit at Appleton high school was not lacking Thursday afternoon at the student "pep session" held in preparation for the Appleton-Fond du Lac football game Saturday. Cheers were led by Robert Carnes, Joan Peotter and Sybil Plank. Joseph Shields, football coach, gave a brief talk.

METHODISTS SUPPORT STABILIZATION PLAN

Chicago — (P)—President Herbert Hoover was assured today of support of the Rock River Methodist Episcopal conference for his plan for stabilization of credit. A resolution expressing commendation for any appreciation of the economic relief plan of the president, and assuring the hearty cooperation of the ministers was passed yesterday.

competition" from other centers where the prevailing wages are lower and, in some instances, the working day longer. The workers, on the other hand, claim that if a 10 per cent cut is permitted the wage level will have sunk considerably below the cost of living.

The introduction of the National Textile Workers union, a Communist organization into the affair in Lawrence has, civic leaders claim, increased the difficulty of effecting compromises. Until yesterday, when the immigration authorities whisked her to a detention station in Boston there to await settlement of the question of her deportation, Edith Berkman, fiery young organizer for the union, has exhorted the strikers each day and in a recent address claimed responsibility for the strike. Her place has been taken, however, by Sophie Melvin, another young organizer. In the meantime, the United Textile Workers of America, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor has been rallying the workers to its standards, and, to a degree, has had the support of the municipal authorities.

The trouble on the Boston waterfront resulted from the refusal of local longshoremen to agree with the ship owners to a wage scale recently negotiated by the International Longshoremen's union for the New York rock workers.

There Is No Definition For Sex Appeal, Says Cody

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
(Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press)

Hollywood — (CPA)—There was quite a galaxy of beauty, as the phrase goes, in the Embassy luncheon room. So you asked Lew Cody what is sex appeal, anyhow? He ought to know. He has it himself. "There isn't any definition of sex appeal," Lew Cody replied, "and if there is, it's false."

Go on, you urge him, sneaking a pate de fois gras onto your plate. Go on. Don't get apigrammatic. Get down to cases.

"Well, take perfect features," Cody answered. "They don't necessarily have sex appeal possessed by the girl with a snub nose. Physical perfection may not have anything to do with it, though physical perfection constitutes a good start. Anne Boleyn had something wrong with one of her hands, yet King Henry upset church and state to marry her. They say Cleopatra wasn't a bit good looking, but she seems to have been a social success."

"You'd think handsome eyes might be the answer. Then you remember the one-eyed maid of honor who did such damage at the court of—Tous Fourteenth, wasn't it?"

and Charles the Second didn't care if they had thick ankles. He preferred slim, but he didn't mind."

You've been reading biographies, you accuse him.

"They say pate de fois gras is fattening," Cody observed with a glance at your plate. "Certainly I've been reading biography. But it didn't tell me Nell Gwynn, the orange girl, had more sex appeal than the Duchess of Portland, nor why—"

So, you screamed, dashing the pate de fois gras to the floor, a girl gotta be thin anyhow to have S. A.? "Not at all," Cody retorted, "look at Nell Gwynn. She couldn't possibly get into pictures; too matronly. It isn't a question of plump or slender, beauty or ugliness. I believe it's mental rather than physical. A girl can use second rate eyes to advantage when a girl with first rate eyes can't. That's sort of mental, isn't it?"

"But that isn't the true answer either."

Then what is the true answer? you inquired, sneaking more pate de fois gras.

"If you ever find out," Cody reminded, "let me know. I've never met anyone yet who could define sex

$666 COLLECTED FROM LAWBREAKERS DURING LAST MONTH

59 Violators Plead Guilty in Municipal Court in September

Fifty-nine lawbreakers, arraigned in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg in September, paid fines and costs totalling $666.85, according to the monthly report of William R. Kreiss, municipal court reporter. In addition there were six cases dismissed; six defendants were jailed, and 10 were bound over for trial.

Under city ordinances there were 47 arrests, with 44 of the defendants appeal. It's like the force of gravity or measles. You don't know why it is. It simply is."

paying fines totalling $320, costs of $81.80 and officer's fees of $36.10. Arrests were made as follows: speeding, 21; jumping arterials, 6; drunkenness, 5; parking offenses, 6; reckless driving, 3; and one each for failing to heed a traffic officer's signal, using insulting language, disorderly conduct, failure to stop after an accident and drunken driving.

Fines under state laws totalled $35, costs $18.60, and officer's fees $20.35. Arrests under state laws were made as follows: larceny, 6; drunkenness, 4; parking offenses, 3; passing worthless checks, 2; non-support, 2; and one each for robbery, using abusive language, forgery, embezzlement, manslaughter, rape and disorderly conduct.

Nine defendants, arrested under county laws, paid $105 in fines and $30 in officer's fees. Arrests were made as follows: jumping arterials, 4; violating dance ordinance, 3; reckless driving and driving with the muffler open, one each.

POISON CHARGE IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Chicago — (P)—Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, former city health commissioner, filed suit for divorce yesterday charging his wife, Mrs. Marie Sahlin Kegel, had tried to poison him over the period of five years. The alleged instances of poisoning began in 1926, he said. On many later occasions, the bill asserts, she poured a powerful sleeping position in drinks which she gave him. He did not learn of the acts, he said, until Sept. 19 of this year.

The Kegels were divorced secretly in September, 1930, but a reconciliation was effected and they were remarried before the news became public.

SEEK BIG LOAN FOR AID IN DROUTH AREA

St. Paul—(AP)—An application for a loan from the Federal Farm Board to purchase sufficient wheat to make a maximum of 100,000 barrels of flour for distribution exclusively to the farmers of the drouth areas of northwestern North Dakota and northeastern Montana will be made by the Farmers Union organizations of this territory.

Announcement of the plan was made today by M. W. Thatcher, general manager of the Farmers Union Terminal association of St. Paul. It would require approximately a half million bushels of wheat if the maximum quantity is used. The announcement came after a series of conferences held by representatives of the state organization of the Farmers Union of Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Montana throughout last week.

The Farmers Union group, if the Federal Farm Board loan is approved, plans to turn over the flour and the by-products to the Red Cross for free transportation to the farmers of the drouth areas exclusively in fifteen counties in North Dakota and 26 in Montana.

"There are more than 100,000 members of farm families in this territory destitute," said Mr. Thatcher, who was named chairman of the permanent relief committee for the union.

"In making an application for a loan from the Federal Farm Board, we are not asking for charity. We seek this loan on the same terms given to China, namely a five-year repayment period and a low interest rate."

SEE ANOTHER DELAY FOR GUARD STATION

Administration's Economy Plans Will Cause Postponement

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington — Construction of the $35,000 Coast Guard station at Strawberry passage in Green Bay will probably be postponed another year or two, this time on account of the administration's economy plans.
The station was authorized nearly 10 years ago to provide means of protecting life and property in the bay, but approval of funds to build the station has been postponed year after year by the budget bureau and by Congress ever since 1922 when the law was passed making the station possible.

Sen. John J. Blaine of Boscombe and Rep. George J. Schneider of Appleton have been very active in seeking money for the project. The Senate always passes the Blaine amendment to an appropriation bill providing money to start work, but the House of Representatives always rejects this amendment and it is "thrown out in conference."

Rep. Schneider appears before the appropriations committee to urge inclusion of the funds, but his pleas are rejected.
Money for two of the 16 authorized stations was appropriated last year. The proposed Strawberry Passage station was fourth on the program, Admiral Frederick B. Bland, commander of the Coast Guard, told the committee, and thus it was expected last year that the money would be forthcoming this year in the regular course of events, since it was assumed that the program of two stations a year would be pursued.

When Rep. Schneider returned to Washington after his trip to Europe, he conferred with Coast Guard officials and found them very doubtful that money for any Coast Guard construction would receive budget approval this session. "Commerce and life on Green Bay does not receive proper attention," Rep. Schneider told the appropriations committee last year, "because of the fact that the Plum Island Coast Guard station is on the northeast point of Plum Island, while Green Bay is to the west and south of the island."

Both Sen. Blaine and Rep. Schneider told of the importance of commerce in Green Bay and the lack of facilities for the aid of vessels in distress in that area.

IRON ORE SHIPMENTS LIGHTEST IN DECADE

Superior—(P)—Shipments of iron ore from the Lake Superior district for the 1931 navigation season, unless there is an unexpected demand in the next six weeks, probably will be the lightest in the past decade and one of the few seasons when shipments fell below thirty million tons.

Shipments of iron ore up to the first part of October totaled less than 20,000,000 tons, with continued lack of demand keeping the shipments at below normal. Navigation on the Great Lakes will continue until near the close of November, but if the shipments are to total anywhere near the past few years, an unusual large amount of ore will have to be taken from the docks on Lake Superior.

While the 1930 season did not show as large shipments as the record-breaking year of 1929, the total was more than 46,000,000 tons which was regarded by mining men as "good" considering the general business conditions. Stocks have been heavy at lower lake ports throughout the 1931 navigation season and the demand has been extremely light. The 1929 season marked the greatest in iron ore mining in the Lake Superior history, there being shipments of more than 65,000,000 tons.

Shipments of iron ore from the Lake Superior docks in September this year were little more than four million tons, while a year ago the total shipments for the 1930 season were more than 39,000,000 tons. The bulk of the shipments of ore in the Lake Superior district is from the Duluth-Superior harbor, with other shipments from Ashland, Two Harbors, Escanaba and Marquette.

KAUKAUNA AND MENASHA GRID SQUADS TANGLE

Little Team After Second Victory in Northeastern League

Kaukauna — Seeking its second conference victory, Kaukauna high school's football team will meet Menasha at the Kaukauna ball park at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. Menasha has played only one conference game this season, tying East De Pere. Kaukauna has won one conference game and tied one.

Coach Paul E. Little will start the lineup which clicked so well at Shawano last week. Noie, Kaw right half back, may be unable to play, as he hurt his left shoulder in the game with Shawano. The difficulty will be experienced with the loss of Noie, however, as there are several backs who can easily take Noie's place at wing position. The squad has been working hard all week and scrimmaged for the last time Thursday evening. Some rough spots in the passing attack, which was used with such good results in the game with Shawano, were evident Thursday evening.

While Menasha has not lost a game this season, they have played several football teams from smaller schools. The Falls did not show so well in the game with East De Pere, a much weaker team, and the downriver team was able to hold the Caldermen to a tie last Friday evening. The Purple and White defense weakened several times, and at times their offense buckled when in scoring territory.

Although some changes may be made in the line-up for the Menasha game will probably be: Koch and Van Lieshout at the end, positions Nelson and Bodde at tackle posts, Block and Jansen, guards, and Weirauch, center. In the backfield: Kemp and Kuchelmeister at half-back positions; McCormick, fullback; and Schuler calling signals. Any changes in the lineup would be Vils for Koch, Schwendeman for Schuler, Noie for Kemp, and Mauer for Bodde or Weirauch.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Kaukauna—Mrs. Carl Specht entertained the Playfare card club at her home Thursday. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Norman E. Gerhart, Mrs. George Haack, and Mrs. E. G. Dreissen. A lunch was served. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. L. Van Roy at Appleton.

Ladies Aid of Congregational church will hold a rummage sale in the church parlors Saturday, Oct. 10.

Club No. 4, Ladies of St. Mary's Catholic church, held a public card party and social at the annex Thursday afternoon and evening. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. L. M. Perry and Mrs. A. Koch in bridge; Mrs. Agnes Hartzheim and Mrs. Ted Nyles in Five Hundred; Mrs. Ted Gerrits, and Mrs. John Verbeten in schafkopf for ladies; and C. Bangart and M. Mitchell in schafkopf for men. Mrs. T. A. Ryan was chairman of the club. A lunch was served in the afternoon.

HURRY GRADING WORK ON AVENUE TO LIMITS

Kaukauna—Grading of Main-ave from Tenth-st to the city limits is being rushed by the south road district. The street is expected to be used as a detour for Highway 55 while Crooks from the concrete at the city limits to Fourth-st is being paved. Several teams are being used to haul the ground from several small elevations in the street to the ravine near Twelfth-st. Cinders and stone have been placed on the completed sections of the street and about two more weeks have to be graded. Bids for paving Crooks-ave already are being received and the contract will be let soon.

DRAW UP SCHEDULE AT CITY NURSE'S OFFICE

Kaukauna—Miss Coil Flynn, city nurse, has announced her schedule for the school year. Her office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. From 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. she will be at the high school each morning. On Mondays and Wednesdays she will be at the north side schools, and on Tuesdays and Thursdays she will be at the south side schools. On Fridays the dental clinics occupy her time.

RECEIVE BOOK PRIZES FOR CONTEST WINNERS

Kaukauna—Book prizes for winners of the World Book Tour Reading contest of the Vacation Reading club of the Kaukauna Free Public Library have been received and the winners can get the books by calling at the library. The titles of the books are "Lorna Doone," for Miss Jean Busse; "Pinocchio," for Miss Helen Vandenhoven; "Hans Brink" for Miss Louise Faust; and "Fair Tales and Stories" for Miss Lucille Faust.

AUXILIARY DELEGATES GOING TO MARINETTE

Kaukauna — Three delegates of the auxiliary of the Kaukauna American legion will go to Marinette Saturday to attend the mid-winter conference of state legion auxiliaries. The delegates, named at a meeting Monday evening, are Mrs. F. Banning, Mrs. A. O'Connell, and Mrs. Fred Oim.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Mrs. and Mr. John Verkuilen of Thorpe and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dreissen of Stanley were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Dreissen Wednesday.

Mrs. Jule Schommer of Oshkosh attended the wedding of Miss Harriet Berkers and George Zwick here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barrett were returning to Chicago after a week's stay here.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT by Ely Culbertson World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

"THAT'S GOLD IN THEM HILLS"

It is a genuine pleasure to see a difficult hand at contract expertly played by the Declarer and accurately defended by his adversaries. Often it is touch and go as to whether or not the Declarer will be able to batter down his opponents' defenses or whether they by superior strategy will be able to utilize the Declarer's interior forces and defeat his project. Necessarily, the fact that one side is the Declarer, and this is particularly true when a game contract has been arrived at, carries with it the implication that he and his partner believe they have the superior force or will be able to so utilize their forces, which may be nearly equal so far as honor strength concerned, as to attain their object.

Recently, I had the pleasure of watching in a Duplicate Team-of-Four game some very accurate play on the part of Mr. Richard Frey, who with Geoffrey Kott-Smit, who East, made a contract Pair Championship at New York in 1930.

North and South not vulnerable. East and West vulnerable. South Dealer.

The Hand:

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South West North East
1st ♠ 1 ♠ Pass 2NT (1)
Pass (2) 2NT (3) Pass Pass

1—It pays East to be cautious because his side is vulnerable. It is true his hand contains 2-1/2 honor-tricks plus a Queen and he knows that his partner is not making a "insurance" bid against a non-vulnerable opponent.

2—South might possibly have bid three diamonds in view of the scoring situation, but this bid would not change the ultimate declaration.

3—West's bid of three notrump is fully justified. His hand contains 3 honor-tricks and his partner's bid has shown stoppers in the spade suit and unquestionable additional strength elsewhere.

Against a notrump contract South is faced with that difficult question, the choice of a lead. His hand is not of the type that suggests the advisability of a "Warning" lead which in this case would be the lead of his highest heart. In view of the bidding by East and West, North is probably trickless. South's hope of defeating the contract must be based upon the establishment of low cards in his own hand in addition to the honor-tricks which he is sure to make. It would appear that the diamond suit offers the best possibility of development. If East is compelled to lead the spades, he may find his double stopper in that suit become only a single stopper, but actually

SCHMALZ GOING TO COMMITTEE MEETING

Kaukauna—Arthur M. Schmalz, ninth district legion commander, and member of the local post of American Legion, will attend a meeting of the state legion executive committee at Milwaukee Sunday. Mr. Schmalz will be accompanied by his wife and Erik Madsen of the Oney Johnson post at Appleton. All district commanders of the state and the state commander and vice commander are members of the executive board.

SEEK STATE AID FOR APPROACH TO BRIDGE

Kaukauna—A committee including Mayor B. W. Fargo, Aldermen Bert Roberts and G. L. Smith, and City Attorney Joseph LeFevre will go to Madison Saturday morning to seek aid from the state highway commission on construction of an approach to the Lawe-st bridge from the south side of the river. The committee was appointed at the last meeting of the common council. It will report to the council at next Tuesday evening.

DELEGATES BACK FROM WOMEN'S CONVENTION

STREAM POLLUTION PROBLEM DISCUSSED

Women's Clubs Told "No Greater Problem" Confronts Federation

LaCrosse —(P)—Pollution of waterways of the nation, particularly the Mississippi river and stimulation of the state's conservation program Thursday engaged the attention of the council of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs.

Pollution of streams has gone to such lengths "that only Providence has prevented an epidemic of disease assuming the proportions of a plague," Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Minneapolis, chairman of the national federation's waterways committee, told the council.

"No greater problem faces American club women than the purification of the water supply of our families," Mrs. Warren said. "Shippers may recognize the economic advantages of improving the channels of our rivers. Economically these improvements are imperative, but women sizing up our streams will be impressed first of all with the health menace presented by waterways into which thousands of cities and industries pour their wastes. It is time that our civilization works out civilized method of disposing of its refuse."

LAZY GLANDS

Hair that is full of grease and has an odor is due to a gland disorder. Soap and water won't help. Face the truth about your scalp! When the scalp oozes oil from every pore, the glands are wasting nourishment and need attention. Stimulate those lazy glands and all that grease and scale will go. And watch what happens to the hair itself, when properly nourished! Gland stimulation gives hair new life and new color. You won't have any streaks to "touch up" or gray locks to hide. Pigmentation will slowly but surely revive the natural color of any hair not completely and permanently gray. Start stimulation of those lazy glands tonight! The way to wake them is by massage. Use your finger-tips, dipped in Danderine. The Danderine will cut through the pore filth and get at the gummed glands.

One treatment will dissolve every particle of dandruff. The first week will give you a healthy, wholesome scalp. But keep the treatments up until the very feel of your hair tells you it is in perfect condition.

You can get Danderine at any drugstore. It is a marvelous medicine for sick scalps.

WISCONSIN BOYS PLANT NUT TREES

Participate in National Campaign Sponsored by Two Groups

Madison —(P)—Junior forest rangers and Boy Scouts of Wisconsin will participate in the national nut tree planting campaign sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the American Forestry association and the American Walnut Manufacturers association.

A year ago Walekin McNeel, state leader of the junior rangers, received three shipments of nuts for planting in Wisconsin. One came from Gettysburg battlefield, one from the home of Admiral Richard E. Byrd and the third from the spot in Washington, D. C. where Capt. Barney held the British at bay in the War of 1812.

The nuts were planted last spring and in another year the young trees will be available for transplanting by rangers scouts, and school and patriotic organizations. The Wisconsin committee in charge of the campaign has designated five historic areas from which walnuts will be sent to various parts of the nation.

The Nelson-Dewey state park is one area. It represents the location of old Fort Crawford, the exploring grounds of Nelson and Dewey and the meeting place of the Wisconsin and Mississippi rivers where Father Marquette, the Jesuit missionary, once traveled.

Another area is at Fort Hamilton in Lafayette county. Here a son of Alexander Hamilton distinguished himself in one of the battles of the Black Hawk War.

Blue Mounds in western Dane county is the third area. It was

2 CANDIDATES MAY OPPOSE SCHNEIDER

Senator Cashman and Assemblyman Blahnik Have Eyes on Job

Congressional ambitions of Senator John E. Cashman, Denmark, and Assemblyman Jacob J. Blahnik of Algoma, Kewaunee-co., may have a material effect on the change in the present congressional map at the approaching special session of the legislature. At least this is the opinion of Madison political doers. One of the writers has this to say:

"Both Senator Cashman and Mr. Blahnik desire to go to congress and are preparing to be candidates against Congressman George J. Schneider who represents the ninth district. Mr. Schneider lives in Appleton, Outagamie-co. Senator Cashman and Assemblyman Blahnik both reside in Kewaunee-co. Each fears the other as a candidate for congress less than he does a sitting member. Both also think there is a demand for a congressional district composed of Lake shore counties. They may be found advocating such a district when the reapportionment bill is pending. Their ideas would be to attach Outagamie-co. to the sixth district and substitute Manitowish-co. in the new district that will replace the present ninth. Whether the progressive leaders will be willing to accept such an amendment to the congressional map it is hard to say.

A Lecture on Christian Science

A lecture on Christian Science: Its Healing Mission by Robert Stanley Ross, C. S. E. of New York N. Y., member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., was given in Lawrence Memorial Chapel last evening under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city. The lecturer spoke, in part, as follows:

The religion of Christian Science is winning public approval because it both promises unlimited good and fulfills its promise by delivering from discord of every sort those who embrace its teaching and yield to its divine influence. In comforting words of the Master, Christian Science says to all mankind: "Come unto me, all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest"—rest, not in a suppositional place called heaven accessible only through the doorway of death, but here and now; for it is not in future heaven, but in present experience, that humanity needs help. Knowing this, Christian Scientists declare with Paul that "now is the day of salvation."

Although she discovered Christian Science in 1866, it was not until 1875, through her now famous test-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," that Mary Baker Eddy published a complete and comprehensive exposition of this Science. Nevertheless, after a lapse of little more than half a century since this book first made its appearance, Christian Science healing is being widely demonstrated; Christian Science churches and societies in ever increasing number and unity may be found throughout the length and breadth of the civilized world; and the revered Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science is recognized at home and abroad as one of the foremost benefactors of the race.

Within this period, Christian Science has healed perhaps millions of persons, many of whom were suffering from diseases which, from the ordinary medical point of view, were supposed to be incurable. It has restored the discouraged and hopeless to lives of joy and usefulness. It has rescued men and women from the vortex of false appetites, immorality and vice. In place of fear and failure it has established assurance and success. Turning recently to a single issue of The Christian Science Journal, for example, I found recorded there healings of blood poisoning, deafness, chronic appendicitis, spinal deformity, internal hemorrhage, heart disease, nervous prostration, epilepsy, paralysis, brain fever, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, indigestion, gastritis, constipation, morphine habit, fear, melancholia, grief, resentment, criticism, and intolerance. Such as these were the "signs following" that made it possible and necessary for Mrs. Eddy "to organize a church designed to commemorate the word and works of our Master, which should restate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing" (Church Manual, p. 17).

Practical Christianity. In other words Christian Science is demonstrable religion, a religion of the Salvation Army.

Pay $1.00 and Stop Rheumatic Agony

New Medicine Guaranteed to Free Your Muscles and Joints in Less Than a Week or Money-Back

Think of the joy of again being free from all rheumatic aches and pains, stiff, swollen joints or sore, lame muscles.

That joy should be yours—a $1 bottle of Ru-Ma, to be had at any drug store, is absolutely guaranteed to stop all misery by rheumatism, in less than a week or no cost.

Ru-Ma eases pain the first day. Your muscles and joints limber up, swelling vanishes, aches and twinges disappear, away go limping and hobbling.

Schlitz Bros. wants every rheumatic sufferer in this city to try Ru-Ma and guarantees money back if it does not stop all your rheumatic suffering. Adv.

of works. This religion would have you accept its teachings not in mere belief or blind faith, but only when you have learned how to demonstrate its divine Principle, which is infinite good. Owing to its provable nature, Christian Science is attracting to its ranks practically-minded, deliberate, thoughtful men and women from every walk of life—men and women who are moved not by appeals to mere religious sentiment, but by sound reason and unanswerable results. In most cases, these persons have turned to Christian Science because it has shown them how to think their way out of difficulties, whether mental or physical, or financial, and usually after other means and methods had failed to help them. Surely the Christianity of Jesus was no religion of forms and ceremonies, of creeds and dogmas! His ministry was a life of loving service to his fellow-men. The Scriptures tell us that the Master went from place to place doing good, and that his pulpit was a Galilean hillside or a fisherman's boat.

Moreover, we should bear in mind that the Master accomplished his healings by recourse to spiritual means only. Although the age had its material methods of treatment, Jesus neither used them nor recommended their use to others. By a process that was evidently unfailing, he healed—in most cases instantaneously—both functional and organic disease, overcame poverty and other phases of limitation, and raised the dead. So inseparable were his precepts and practice that Jesus declared that his followers would be known, characterized, or distinguished, not by accepting and adhering to mere doctrinal beliefs, but only by doing the works that he did, saying, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also;" and, "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils." Accordingly, on page 138 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy says: "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under as direct orders now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning."

Nevertheless, in the face of all this, there are those who contend that the works of our Master were the result of miraculous interpositions of divine power peculiar to him alone and that even the aspiration to follow this healing example would be little short of blasphemy. Over against this point of view, however, we have not only the Master's own injunctions, two of which have already been quoted, but we have the book of Acts and later evidence to prove that the immediate disciples and others obediently demonstrated this healing power. How, then, are we to reconcile these facts to the claim that Christian healing was a supernatural power, available only to Christ Jesus? It is not more reasonable to conclude that Jesus' healings were accomplished by the application of a divine law which he understood far better than others, which he made known in a general way to his disciples, and which they, in turn, made known to others? Is it not more reasonable to conclude that he and they dealt not with that which was the infraction or setting aside of divine law, but with that which was the very fulfillment or demonstration of divine law? Granting this, we must admit also that a divine law which healed the sick in the first century is equally capable of healing the sick in the twentieth century.

Discovery and Demonstration

It is not significant that the Master never reduced his teachings to writing? All that we know about his words and works has been handed down to us in the writings of others. That Jesus was the supreme Exemplar of Truth's dominion over error there is no room for doubt. So closely did his earthly life conform to Christ, the divine ideal, that he became known as Jesus the Christ, or Jesus the Godlike man. Had the age been prepared to assimilate divine healing as a Science, God would certainly have made it possible for the Master, above all others, to record it. But in the very fact that Jesus himself looked definitely to the future for the Comforter or "Spirit of truth" (plainly not a person who would abide forever and lead into "all truth,"—in this, I say, we have clear indication that the final revelation of Truth, symbolized in the Apocalypse as an angel with a "little book" and as "a woman clothed with the sun," was yet to come.

In her brief autobiography entitled, "Retrospection and Introspection," Mrs. Eddy tells us that for twenty years by medical and other experiments she had been trying to trace all physical effects to a mental cause and that finally her recovery from the effects of a supposedly fatal accident was the falling apple that led to her great discovery. To be sure, others, both before and since the apostolic era, had experienced divine healing, but Mrs. Eddy was the first person in all history to discover the underlying Principle of such healing and to make it known to the world. In order to do this, Mrs. Eddy, who had always been a close student of the Bible, withdrew from society and for three years devoted herself to a more systematic and prayerful study of the Scriptures. After proving, by healing the sick quickly and permanently, that this divine Principle is demonstrable, Mrs. Eddy named her discovery Christian Science, saying on page 117 of Science and Health: "Our Master healed the sick, practised Christian healing, and taught the generalities of its divine Principle to his students; but he left no definite rule for demonstrating this Principle of healing and preventing disease. This rule remained to be discovered in Christian Science."

Putting it simply, then, Christian Science is the discovery and scientific exposition of the divine Principle by which Christ Jesus performed his mighty works. Mrs. Eddy named her discovery Christian because it is compassionate and helpful. She named it Science because it is based upon divine Principle, God, and requires exact knowledge. It follows, therefore, that a Christian Scientist is one who aims, in so far as he understands them, to illustrate the teachings of Christ Jesus in his daily life, and that a Christian Science practitioner is one who understands this Science well enough to invoke its divine Principle successfully not only in his own behalf, but in behalf of those who may call upon him for aid. Writing on page 141 of Science and Health,

Mrs. Eddy says: "In healing the sick and sinning, Jesus elaborated the fact that the healing effect followed the understanding of the divine Principle and of the Christ-spirit which governed the corporeal Jesus. For this Principle there is no dynasty, no ecclesiastical monopoly. Its only crowned head is immortal sovereignty. Its only priest is the spiritualized man."

The evening's program will open with a dinner, followed by a vaudeville program, dancing and cards. The officers voted to subscribe $50 to the Salvation Army.

PLOVER NO LONGER IS WISCONSIN VILLAGE

Stevens Point—(P)—Plover, once the busy and thriving county seat of Portage-co., ceased being a village yesterday. It is now a part of the township of Plover, in conformity with the wishes of village voters who suspended the village form of government last April. The change became effective six months later. The fire truck will be turned over to the town, but street lighting must continue at least until 1936, when the present lighting contract expires. The government was dissolved because the town tax rate is kept down by paper mill taxes.

Lawyers to Meet

The Outagamie Bar association will meet Monday noon at Hotel Northern. The business session will be preceded by a luncheon. Routine business matters will be transacted, according to Miss Patricia Ryan, secretary.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULT
Portsmouth 6, Cleveland 0.

SATURDAY'S GAME
Providence at Philadelphia.

SUNDAY'S GAME
Chicago Cards at Green Bay.
New York at Chicago Bears.
Stapleton at Brooklyn.

Green Bay—There will be a scholastic sideline as an extra attraction at the National Football league game at City stadium when the Green Bay Packers attempt to turn back their "jinx" team, the Chicago Cardinals and chalk up the fifth victory in the 1931 race.

The Green Bay High School band will make its annual appearance at a Packer game. These youthful musicians will step forth with the flourish and marching steps which have made them famous throughout the state. They will parade the grid-iron between halves.

School Teams To Attend
There will probably be about a half dozen high school football squads in attendance. The "Packers of tomorrow" are coming as "pay" guests. In other words, they are charged 50 cents each but get reserved seats.

Algonia, Clintonville, Kewaunee, Sturgeon Bay, Seymour, Wisconsin Rapids, Stevens Point, Pulaski and Escanaba, Mich., high squads are slated to be present. On the following Sundays other schools from Wisconsin and upper Michigan have been invited to attend.

No Shortage of Seats
Tickets are moving at a lively clip for the Cardinal game and all indications point to another large crowd. Enlargement of the stands at the City stadium has made about 2,000 more seats available.

The Football corporation is guaranteeing every spectator a seat. Through its president, L. H. Joannes, the Packer management has forwarded stories to this effect to every newspaper in Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

"Rumors about all seats for the Packer games being sold are unfounded," according to a Packer statement, "and the Football corporation is now in a position to guarantee every spectator a seat."

Series Notes

St. Louis—(AP)—There's been considerable conjecture as to the nationality of "Pepper" Martin. The youngster himself doesn't help the argument much.

"My father was Irish," he says, "and in the background is some German and Dutch. My mother is English and my wife says I'm Scotch. I once played football with the Hominy Indians, but I never saw the Osage country which is in the northeast portion of Oklahoma, not the south, where I hail from. So figure that out for yourself."

Just what St. Louis things of "Pepper" and his importance of himself and his .667 batting average to the club, was demonstrated last night when the youngster talked briefly over a local radio station, along with Frankie Frisch and Gabby Street. Four detectives called for Martin and escorted him to the broadcasting rooms. When it was over they took him home again.

Some of Mickey Cochrane's poor playing in the series, his lack of hitting and his failure to strike much of an average thwarting Martin's attempt to steal, may be explained by his physical condition.

Mickey has been in poor condition since he was hit in the head by a pitched ball late in the season. He is playing with a strained side heavily bound in plaster and one leg tightly taped to protect a "charley horse."

Despite his base stealing record, Martin is not the fastest straightaway runner on the Cardinals ball club. In a 75 yard dash a few days ago, Frankie Frisch beat him, Jim Wilson, the catcher, was second, and Pepper third.

In a race around the bases, however, the Cardinals claim Pepper has on superior in the big leagues. They would also back him against any man in the business in a dash from the plate to first base.

APPLETON PLAYERS IN VIKI GOLF MEET

Confidentially, though, Columbia Captain Ralph Hewitt is one of the stand-out backs of the country.... Rockne thought Hanley would become a great fullback.... but Dan produced a mark that didn't meet with the approval of the Notre Dame faculty.... It looks like Northwestern is getting a corner on the Hanleys.

MARQUETTE MEETS GRIMSON TONIGHT

Golden Avalanche Plays Second Big Four Team in Two Weeks

Milwaukee—Frank Murray's Marquette university Golden Avalanche faces its second preliminary test of the season here tonight, with the Ripon college Redmen of the state collegiate conference invading the Hilltop stadium for floodlight competition.

The Redmen, favorites in the state Big Four, come to Marquette after holding Minnesota fairly well in their 1931 debut and turning back a conference opponent, Beloit, 13 to 6.

Ripon should give the Marquette gridders much keener competition than they experienced in downing the Lawrence Vikings, 39 to 0, last Friday night. Carl Doehling has a big team, generously sprinkled with veterans.

Since the Lawrence game, Marquette coaches have sought to improve both the offensive and defensive work of their line. Tackles especially have been receiving attention and it is likely that Francis Mierzwa, erstwhile guard and end, will be working at a tackle position.

The game will start at 8:30 p. m. Boy Scouts of Milwaukee and vicinity will be admitted free. The probable lineups:

Marquette	Pos.	Ripon
Becker	L.E.	Runyan
Mierzwa	L.T.	Hulka
Bachhuber	L.G.	Cheate
Krueger	C.	Matny
Rozmarynoski	R.G.	Antross
Luoma	R.T.	Fisher
Gorychka	R.E.	Steinman
E. Ronzani	C.E.	Meyer
Sisk	L.H.	Holmes
Peterson	R.H.	Schaum
Halfman	F.B.	Anderson

son—Harwood, Gordon Holtermann and Rudy Vogt, city open champion last year. Dean W. S. Naylor of the Lawrence faculty also competed in the tourney.

The winner is to receive a gold medal.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS

(Footnote: Fox, 1931)

Badgers Get Test Against Auburn Gridders Tomorrow

Madison—When Wisconsin takes the field against the Tigers of Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Camp Randall Saturday, most of the spectators probably will be trying to estimate the Badgers' chances against Purdue a week later. But before the game is over they may be asking what they are going to do against the Tigers, then and there.

If reports are reliable, the Auburn outfit may make no little trouble for the fast-moving but still uncertain Badgers. With no real line of comparison between the rival teams, the experts are considering various factors. Unquestionably Wisconsin's superior man power will be an important factor. Another which will be considered is physical condition. The Tigers have had nearly two weeks more practice and they will be coming from a warm climate to a cooler and more invigorating one. Then there is Chet Wynne, Tiger coach, who has always shown himself a sound as well as a foxy coach. If his team is as good in forward passing attack as reports suggest, there may be some anxious moments for Wisconsin Saturday.

Krauholt At Guard
The Badger first team line-up now seems fairly well set, since the return of Goldenberg to the quarterback post and the approval of Krauholt's eligibility, which assures him a place at guard. Kruger will play center, flanked by Kahat and Krauholt—the "K-K-K" trio. Captain Smith will be at right tackle and, probably, Cutbert at left, though the veteran Stout is pressing him. Lovshin and Thurner are pretty certain to be the end selections.

In the backfield the only uncertainty is in regard to McGuire, whose injured arm is mending rapidly. Ordinarily, he would not be used but he needs game experience and may start at right halfback. If he is held out, the place will be filled by Bobby Schiller, rugged and heavy sophomore, who is a fine blocker and a good field general, for a youngster, John Schneller looks like a fixture at fullback.

ST. JOHN, ST. MARY ELEVENS TO CLASH
Little Chute—The St. John high school football team will play its second Catholic conference game Sunday at 2:30 when it meets old rivals, the St. Mary school team of Menasha at Little Chute. The local team won its first conference game last Sunday at De Pere when it defeated St. Norbert high school eleven by a score of 12 to 0.

A good game is expected Sunday as the locals have been getting hard practice the last week. The probable lineup for St. John's will be: Martin Wildenberg, fullback; Nie-attention but this year Coach Thistlethwaite feels that if his attack functions properly it will be time well spent and the defense will improve as game experience gives the men confidence. Line coach Fred Swan has not neglected this phase of the game and it is felt that, despite the small time allotted to it, the defense will stand pounding and function properly if opposing pass attacks can be smothered.

But it's Newspaper Advertising That Produces Business

---

What goes in New York goes in Appleton

John David, eminently successful New York retailer, has this to say about selling today. You will do well to read his message:

"We have not cut our advertising appropriation, but this year are spending more money for publicity than at any time in our existence. I think it is the worst sort of a mistake to cut advertising at a time when business is unusually hard to get.

"... It is extremely important to spend the appropriation where it will do the most good. . . . We have been rather generous in our expenditures for ( . . . ) advertising, but in the last year we have cut down considerably, so as to spend more in the newspapers. . . ."

— from an address reported in the Daily News-Record (N. Y.), Wednesday, September 16, 1931.

This evening, over fifteen thousand families — approximately sixty thousand people — will see this advertisement. All of them will read the headline. All of them will know whose name is at the bottom. Every prospective customer will read at least part of this printed information. His interest will be revived. He will be reminded that here is a product and service he can buy to advantage.

There is nothing mysterious about the pulling power of newspaper advertising. Its reader-audience of sixty thousand is one explanation. In no other way can you command their attention and respect.

This audience will see — and necessarily read — at least a part of this advertisement. A newspaper advertisement cannot be tuned out, thrown in the wastebasket or completely ignored. It is an integral part of the newspaper which sells through the EYE, the best type of selling. It blends — rather than conflicts — with the non-advertising features which form the primary structure of this newspaper.

What is true of this advertisement is true of every other advertisement in the Post-Crescent — and is not true of advertising in any other medium in the Appleton area. Through no other way can you obtain such prestige, background and such advertising aids as our illustration and copy service.

The Post-Crescent is the logical one-choice way to sell your products and services. Again and again it wins out in comparative tests with other methods. Results from it are proportionate to its use. Its cost, per person reached, are far and away the lowest in the central Valley. Phone 543 for an ad man.

AWAIT RULING OF SUPREME COURT ON DETACHMENT

Law Held Invalid in Suit Contested Between Chilton, Landowners

Madison (AP)—More than 100 fourth class cities in Wisconsin will have much at stake next week when the supreme court rules for the second time on the constitutionality of the law permitting certain farmers in cities of 10,000 and under to detach their agricultural lands if they think the taxes are too high.

As it stands, this law, enacted in 1929 was ruled invalid by the supreme court last June in a suit contested between the city of Chilton and a group of landowners. But the decision was by a narrow margin. Four members of the court held the law void and the other three dissented from that view.

Next Tuesday the court will rule on the petition of 29 farmers to detach their lands from the city of Beaver Dam and annex them to the town of Beaver Dam.

In the event the three members who believed the law to be constitutional win just one of the other judges over to their views the act will become operative again.

And any fourth class city in the state will then stand the risk of losing some of its taxes in case any farmers, who think the tax rate is too high and can comply with provisions of the law, decide to detach from the city.

But if a majority of the court sticks to the opinion that the law violates the equality provisions of the constitution it probably will be doomed as a dead statute.

The illegality of the law, as the court has so far interpreted it, lies in the fact that it applies only to farm lands in the fourth class cities.

In the city of Chilton case the court expressed its sympathy with the intention of the 1929 legislature to free purely agricultural lands from the burdens of city taxation but concluded that the law would have to have general application to be valid.

The city of Beaver Dam is relying on the June decision and on the contention that the law is further discrimination in that it can be evoked only by farmers whose lands have been inside a fourth class city for 21 years, all of which time the land was used for agricultural purposes.

The 29 Beaver Dam farmers, owning about 800 acres of farm lands brought their suit in the name of Carl E. Reudebusch. They contend that tax rates are higher in fourth class cities than in any other class and that the inclination to "ape" the metropolitan cities leads to extravagance.

WADHAMS OIL AGENTS AT LUBRICATION SCHOOL

Twenty-five Wadhams Oil company agents of the northern district attended the Industrial Lubrication school at Conway hotel Wednesday.

Speakers at the meeting were four Milwaukee men: L. McNally, vice president of the concern; Don Blesel, industrial sales manager; C. Jahnke, chief engineer; and F. E. Hubbard, Milwaukee, superintendent of all branches. Short talks were given by E. J. Treiber, district manager; and L. B. Penhallo, industrial special representative, who recently moved to Appleton from Chicago.

Divorces Can Be Secured From Mexico Now By Mail

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
Copyright 1931, By Cons. Press
Hollywood—(CFA)—This idea of getting your divorce from Mexico by mail, and in two weeks' time, is spreading hereabout like wildfire.

The idea originated in Hollywood with Milton Golden, Hollywood attorney and member of the state legislature. Golden helped frame the Mexican law which, already adopted by two Mexican states, grants divorces to Americans within a fortnight of application without requiring the actual establishment of residence below the border. Two or three such divorces have been granted.

Attorney Golden said today that the governor of lower California has just been conferring with him on the advisability of passing the two-weeks, mail-order law there. Golden advised him to go ahead.

"It's all done by proxy," said Golden. "No, it isn't done by mirrors—you're thinking of marriage. It's also all done by mail. Male is usually the cause of the marriage and frequently of the divorce; the males are sometimes slow, you know. It is absolutely legal, and costs a minimum of $1,000. This is higher than a Reno divorce, but not when you figure the expense of a six weeks' residence in Nevada with the consequent absence from your business."

He explained further, it appears that your first step is a quarrel with your spouse. That's easy, but so is the second step which is to establish a residence in Mexico by proxy and let your Mexican lawyer accept service while you remain wherever you please. "And then," Golden proceeded, "you just go quietly about your business and suddenly two weeks later you get a document in Spanish and English without any odor of orange blossoms on it, and that's that."

You asked him why not divorces by telephone?

"Some people stutter," Golden replied, "and besides, television is practically here."

Golden, by the way, is a bachelor.

PRESCRIPTION for Constipation tested by 47 YEARS' PRACTICE

THERE'S one way to help the bowels that is safe, and sure. It empties them of all the poisonous waste without doing any harm. Its action is thorough but so gentle that it never causes the least discomfort.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin always does the work, and it leaves you feeling fine. You can take it freely, reducing the amount as the bowels grow stronger.

If you feel sluggish, can't eat, have dull headaches, feel tired, weak and run-down, this famous doctor's prescription will help get rid of the waste that is probably clogging your system. If the children have coated tongue or bad breath; if they seem bilious, fretful, upset, give them a little Syrup Pepsin, too. It tastes so good they'll like it, and it can't hurt them. Its gentle aid is ideal for women.

By taking a little at those times when they are most likely to be constipated, they can avoid much discomfort. Its mild but thorough action commands it to older men and women, too.

Dr. Caldwell specialized on the bowels. His prescription of laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other ingredients has been tested by 47 years' practice. Get a bottle from your drugstore. Take some next time you feel the need. Then you'll know why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is the family laxative of millions.
